Plan to Route Trucks Off S. Prospect Beaten

Hunger Fans East German Rebellion

Crowds Defy Soviet Tanks, Roam Streets Demanding Bread

BERLIN (AP) — Hunger stalked Germany's Communist Eastern zone today, fizzing the powderkeg which exploded last week into a workers' rebellion against Russian repression.

Refugees to West Berlin reported that the East Germans, undaunted by Soviet tanks and firing squads, have defied martial law with protest marches demanding bread through the streets of Leipzig, Dresden, Demnitz and Eisenach.

The tottering puppet government of Premier Otto Grotewohl admitted it faced "grave problems" in feeding the 18 million restive East Germans. Its news agency and broadcasts announced state food handling agencies had pledged to make up the losses "caused by the Fascist Western agents" in the strike and riot wave launched June 17.

Farmers were urged to co-operate.

East Berlin was better off than most areas, but with two policing Russian armored divisions living off what was available the city was short of bread and potatoes. Refugees described conditions in many Soviet zone cities as catastrophic.

Communist police patrols, they said, were touring the streets with sound trucks blaring that things would get better.

Farmers, browbeaten for years by arbitrary Communist quotas, were reported withholding their produce from central state collection points, bringing extension of the Red Army's martial law to the agricultural belt.

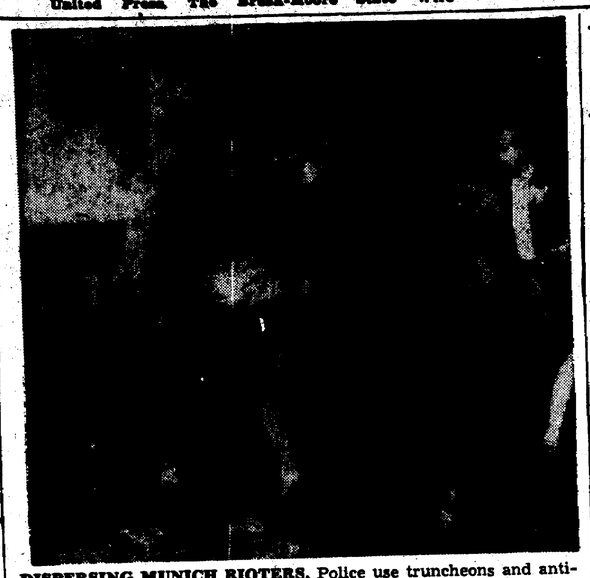
Farmers also were said to be making behind-the-fence deliveries of food to workers and their families in distressed areas.

The wave of arrests and executions continued. The anti-Red underground estimated 16,000 alleged strike leaders were behind bars.

The latest death penalty reported was meted out to Communist Mayor H. W. Hartmann of Doebernitz, in Saxony-Anhalt. He was the first party official reported engulfed in the wave of terror and the 22nd German definitely known to have been executed.

Refugees said Hartmann knocked down a German Communist policeman who fired into a crowd of demonstrators.

Soviet military courts dealt out scores of 25 - year sentences in Magdeburg and Leipzig. Four thousand East Berliners were reported in jail.



DISPERSING MUNICH RIOTERS. Police use truncheons and anti-riot water hoses to break up a group of demonstrators during a riot in Munich, Germany. Ten thousand persons rioted after a protest demonstration in front of the C & A Brenninkmeyer textile shop which had remained open after regular closing hours despite protests by city merchants and local trade unions.

Train Kills Alger Man

Walked Into Path Of Erie Passenger

Special to The Star

KENTON—Ray V. Spurlock, 56, of Alger was killed this morning at 3:20 a.m. by an Erie Railroad passenger train. He was struck at the Main St. crossing in Alger, 17 miles west of Kenton, after walking into the path of the train.

John Tallman of Huntington, Ind., engineer of the train, said he saw Spurlock walk onto the track and take at least two steps with his back to the train before he was struck.

Sheriff's deputies said Spurlock, a well-known merchant in Alger, left his money and personal possessions at home.

Hardin County Coroner Dr. H. R. Johnanson was investigating the death. He had not completed the investigation at noon.

LaRue Farmer Seriously Hurt In Accident

Rowland McElheny of near LaRue was seriously injured in an accident on his farm Sunday about 7:30 p.m.

McElheny had attempted to start a stalled farm truck by pulling it with a tractor. While he was unfastening the chain used in towing he told his son, Rowland, 11, to drive the farm tractor away. The tractor, which was in reverse gear, backed over McElheny.

He suffered a fracture pelvis and fractured spine. He was taken to Hardin Memorial Hospital at Kenton for treatment.

Marks Completion of Expansion

New Erie Diesel Shop Will Be Shown Public At Open House Tuesday

By JOHN ROBSON

The Erie Railroad Diesel Shop on Kenton Ave. will be open to the public on Tuesday, June 30 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. This will be the first opportunity for many people here to see the inside of the plant.

Buses operating from the Courthouse will leave every fifteen minutes for the shop. They will be plainly marked and will stop also at the Harding Hotel and Union Station on the way to the shop.

The visitors will see exactly how the shop runs on an ordinary working day. Employees have been instructed to answer any questions which people might ask.

Special exhibits have been set up showing the inside parts of the huge diesel electric locomotives which power all the trains on the Erie line. Most of the basic equipment in the locomotives has been disassembled and the various parts laid out for the visitors to see.

Theme of the open house will be "The locomotive—the heart of the railroad." The object will be to explain the manner in which the modern diesels work and to impress on the people the important part played by the locomotive. Officials point out that if the locomotives don't run, none of the rest of the train can move. The role of the diesel shop is to keep locomotives in running shape.

The reason for the open house is to celebrate completion of the new addition to the main building. There are still some things which must be done before it is completely finished, but it was placed in operation on March 31. Officials expect to have all unfinished details completed in time for the event on Tuesday.

There will be guided tours through the works every fifteen minutes. Those who wish to view the plant at their own speed may proceed without a guide. Signs will be set up directing the visitors through each part of the plant. Posters over the exhibits will explain the function of each part.

Men will be working on the repairs of locomotives and the people will be able to see the exact processes involved in the overhaul and checking of the engines.

First to Complete Shift

The Erie is the first major line to make the complete shift to diesel power. This changeover took nine years to complete. It cost nearly $80,000,000 to purchase enough new locomotives to run a railroad the size of the Erie. A total of 117 of those engines are assigned to the Marion plant.

All Erie diesels running between Chicago and Hornell, N. Y. are serviced in the shop here. Another diesel shop, at Hornell, services engines in the East. Trains running out of Chicago go as far as Hornell and then the engine is switched off and sent back to Marion for checkup.

The visitors Tuesday will see how an entire section of a locomotive is removed when repairs are needed. If one wheel goes bad

Soviets Lift Iron Curtain From Russia

Wide Areas, Once Forbidden Territory, Opened to Travelers

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has opened wide areas of European and Asiatic Russia to unrestricted travel by foreigners. The first visitor to benefit from the new freedom will be Mrs. Perle Mesta, President Truman's party-giving minister to Luxembourg.

The relaxation was disclosed last night in an official note delivered to all foreign diplomatic missions in Moscow. It was regarded as a significant step since even foreign diplomats until now have been limited in their movements.

(The order gave no indication that the Soviets' tight policy on admission of foreign visitors was being relaxed. In recent years only carefully screened—and usually sympathetic—travelers have been given entry visas.

(There was no immediate indication from Washington that the Soviet move would be followed by similar U. S. action. Countering Moscow, the U. S. since March, 1952, has required all Soviet officials to get State and Defense Department permission before traveling more than 25 miles from Washington or New York City. Other NATO nations have followed suit.)

Mrs. Mesta, who arrived here June 12 for a visit, plans to leave soon for the Zaborozhe section of the Ukraine, home of the Zaborozhe steel plant and the Dnieper Dam. Although her trip was okayed before the travel bans were relaxed, observers here figured bath were part of the same pattern.

The new order apparently clears the way for foreign residents to visit much of European Russia and vast sections of Siberia but it still lists many restricted areas.

It also bans automobile journeys of more than 25 miles outside Moscow, except to three places—the monastery town of Zagorsk, the Tchaikowsky Museum at Klin and the Tolstoy Museum at Yasnaya Polyana, south of Tula. Even these cannot be visited by car without prior notice.

The new regulations also specify 16-mile-deep forbidden zones along the Soviet Union's borders with five neighboring countries—Norway, Finland, Turkey, Iran and Afghanistan. There are no such zones, however, along borders with such Soviet allies in Eastern Eu-

Dulles Sends Top Secret Note to Rhee

Special Emissary Flying to Korea; Clark Silent on Talks

SEOUL (AP)—A special emissary from Washington flew toward Korea today with a secret note to Syngman Rhee after Gen. Mark Clark talked twice with the defiant President about his objections to a truce.

Clark met for 20 minutes today with Rhee for the second time in two days in the Allies' double - barreled effort to get Rhee's cooperation.

An autoritative source in Tokyo reported Rhee offered Clark a compromise aimed at soothing the breach between the Allies and South Korea.

The source said the compromise called for withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea; a mutual security pact with the U. S., and resumption of the war unless a peace conference settles the political situation within 90 days after the signing of a truce.

It remained in doubt whether Clark succeeded in his two - day mission to quiet Rhee's heated objections to a truce that leaves Korea divided.

Returning to Tokyo, Clark told reporters:

"I have nothing more to say than I said yesterday."

Asked about today's brief meeting with Rhee, he said, "I only stopped in for a few minutes."

Assistant U. S. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson, fresh from a secret meeting with President Eisenhower, left Washington for Tokyo and Seoul. He was accompanied by U. S. Army Chief of Staff Gen. J. Lawton Collins.

Robertson carried a secret letter to Rhee from Secretary of State Dulles. He was expected to tell the fiery 78-year-old Korean his policies are jeopardizing the very existence of his nation.

After a 75-minute session with Rhee Monday, Clark said he was encouraged but warned against overoptimism.

Both Clark and the Eisenhower administration, observers said, were understood to be convinced the Communists really want an armistice. But U. N. officials were reported deeply worried how to guarantee the Communists that South Korea would not violate its terms.

Despite the crisis caused by the South Korean President, some puzzling developments raised speculation that Rhee might be easing his bitter opposition to a truce:

1. Reliable South Korean sources reported that Maj. Gen. Choi Suk has been appointed to take charge of South Korean prisoners returned by the Reds after an armistice.

2. In Munsan, South Korean personnel, aided by American engineers, have begun rehabilitating and expanding ROK facilities used last April in the disabled prisoner exchange.

Taxpayers Still Waiting for Theirs

Congressmen Vote Tax Relief—for Themselves

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House of Representatives, which since last February has kept bottled up a bill for individual tax reduction, has voted to give its own members substantial tax relief.

But the Senate may knock the plan in the head, as it did last year.

Without debate and with no audible opposition, the House voted yesterday to allow members of Congress to deduct all their Washington expenses when they figure out their tax bills. They could deduct lodging, food, taxicabs, telepone charges and so on for themselves but not for their families.

For tax purposes, their legal residences would be in their home districts, and all Washington expenses would be considered business expenses and deductible for tax purposes. Congress members may now deduct up to $3,000 a year as Washington expenses.

The tax relief proposal was written into the annual appropriation bill to finance Congress. It was proposed by Rep. McCormack (D-Mass), who long had advocated a pay raise for congressmen on the ground that they have difficulty making ends meet on their present $15,000 official income.

A similar proposal was added by the House last year to the same bill, but the Senate knocked it out and the result was the compromise allowing members of Congress to deduct up to $3,000 as business expenses. The McCormack proposal in effect would remove this limitation.

Sen. Williams (R-Del), who led the Senate fight against the proposal last year, said he would fight it again this year.

Some members of Congress, Wil-

Rhee Again Threatens To "Go It Alone"

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's Army will be withdrawn from control of the U. N. Command and go it alone if a truce is signed on present terms, President Syngman Rhee said today in a CBS interview.

Rhee's threat was included in replies to questions submitted by Columbia Broadcasting System's Far East chief, George Herman.

There was no other reference to the possibility of South Korea's pulling out of the U. N. Command.

After talking with Rhee Monday, Gen. Mark Clark told newsmen there was an understanding that if Rhee "felt the time had come to consider such disastrous action that he would discuss it with me before he came to that decision."

"That time as not come in my opinion," Clark said.

Rhee also listed terms he said

DISCUSS POW CAMP BREAKOUTS. Maj. Thomas Herren (left), commander of the Korean communications zone, and Brig. Gen. Lionel McGarr, director of the POW compounds, tell newsmen about mass break in which more than 27,000 anti-Communist war prisoners have fled from stockades under orders of South Korean President Syngman Rhee. McGarr said he hoped to prevent further escapes, and admitted "we're not getting much response" in urging escapees to come back.

School Aid Bill Vote To Be Squeaker

Franklin Senator Has Deciding Vote But Isn't Talking

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens) today tossed the controversial school subsidy bill into the middle of an Ohio Senate fight.

No one can say with certainty whether the bill will be passed or defeated.

A pre-session Republican Senate caucus was scheduled this morning. It might provide an answer, but the school fight appeared to be more than an ordinary Senate hassle.

Sixteen big-city senators — Republicans and Democrats alike—have banded together to block the school subsidy bill now before the Senate.

The Republican - Democratic combination claimed to be within one vote of defeating the bill which would give all the school subsidy increase to be dumped into a common hopper on which all school districts in the state can draw. They want the money dumped into the so-called "flat distribution" fund, a fund which applies to all school districts equally on a per-pupil basis.

Mechem said last week the bill would be put up to a floor vote "When I have enough votes to pass it the way I want it." Mech-

Some Ohio Cities Short on Water But Not Marion

While the five-day heat wave has caused several cities throughout Ohio to be faced by possible water shortages, Marion is in "pretty good shape," officials of the Marion Water Company announced today.

Hardest hit by dwindling water pressure apparently is Columbus where residents have been urged to reduce lawn sprinkling and other unnecessary uses of water.

Columbus city officials described the need for action as "immediate" and asked all residents to preserve water in as many ways as possible. Most seriously hit in Columbus was the large Turnstedt plant of the General Motors Corp., where production has been halted on the night shift because of the lack of water pressure.

One reason for the lack of effect on the local water supply is the fact that Marion's supply comes from underground sources Other cities facing shortages are forced to pump their supplies from above-ground streams and lakes.

The heat wave has boosted the amount of water pumped daily. Weather forecasters predicted little or no relief from the blistering temperatures. Monday's high mark was 91 degrees while last night the mercury dipped to a comfortable 59. At noon today, the temperature had climbed back to 79 degrees.

Children's Home Open House Will Be Held Sunday

People of Marion County will have an opportunity to tour the Marion County Children's Home and see how it is operated when "open house" is held at the Home Sunday, June 28.

Between 2 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, people will be welcomed and shown through the various parts of the Home. Conducting the tours will be Engene White, superintendent of the Children's Home, Mrs. White, matron, Miss Dorene Baer, case worker for the Child Welfare Board, and Mrs Mildred Schuetz, retiring executive secretary of the Board.

During the afternoon presentation of two plaques to service clubs for work done at the Home will be made. A plaque will be given to the Exchange Club in recognition of the remodeling of the older boys' dormitory, and one to the Kiwanis Club for its work in remodeling the smaller boys' dormitory. Accepting for the two groups will be the club presidents, Fred Schultz and Lester L. Dickey, respectively. Making the presentations will be E. E. Banning, president of the Marion County Child Welfare Board.

New Deputy City Auditor Appointed

Schaffner Named; Succeeds Gibson, Who Will Take State Post

Appointment of Floyd Schaffner of 451 Wilson Ave. to the position of deputy city auditor was announced today by Marion City Auditor Elmer Shaw.

Schaffner will succeed Keith B. Gibson of 452 Girard Ave. who has resigned to accept an appointment as state examiner in the Ohio State Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices.

Gibson has served as deputy city auditor since the position was created by city council in 1948. He will continue in his post until July 6, when his resignatoin becomes effective.

Schaffner, secretary-treasurer of the Marion Lincoln-Mercury Co., Inc., will begin his new duties about July 15. He is a native of Basil and came to Marion in 1941. He was then employed by the McKinney Ford Co. He left Marion in 1947 and was employed in Toledo for about two years. His wife, Eunice, is a former Toledo resident. In 1949 he returned to Marion to join the Marion Lincoln-Mercury Co.

Gibson will begin his new duties with the State on July 6. This bureau is a division of the Ohio State Auditor's office. He will be assigned to work in a seven-county district composed of Marion, Crawford, Wyandot, Richland, Ashland, Knox, and Morrow counties.

Married and the father of one son, he plans to continue living in the Marion area. As a state examiner his duties will be to make periodic checks of the books of various cities and villages located in the seven-county district.

Democrats In Senate Kill Controls Bill

Serve Notice GOP Will Have to Reckon With Minority Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's 47-42 rejection of an administration economic controls bill indicated today that Democrats will have a strong hand in the final fashioning of any major legislation passed by the GOP Congress.

In a striking demonstration of minority party solidarity, 43 Democrats joined with three Republicans and an Independent yesterday to override 42 Republicans and send the controls bill back to conference with the House.

Republican Senators Langer of North Dakota, Williams of Delaware and Young of North Dakota voted with the Democrats. So did Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore).

Involved was a GOP effort, approved by the House, to create a new Small Business Organization (SBA) to make loans of up to $100,000 to smaller concerns. These loans now are handled through the Smaller Defense Plants Administration (SDPA).

Democrats charged this was a "patronage grab" designed to provide jobs for Republicans.

The Republican leadership's defeat was attributed in some quarters to the absence of Sen. Taft R-Ohio) at the critical stages when a compromise might have been perfected and a showdown vote avoided.

Taft, receiving medical treatment for an ailing hip, wouldn't comment on this aspect, but he said in an interview he believes a compromise still can be worked out which the Democrats will support. On the other side, Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said the life of the SDPA will have to be extended for a year or there won't be any small business loan agency at all.

While Taft discounted the lasting effect of the vote, there seemed little doubt that Democrats would

Rejected In Council By 4 to 3 Vote

Would Have Sent Traffic to Route 23 Over Barks Road

Recommendation of a special committee for rerouting Route 4 truck traffic through Marion was voted down by City Council at its meeting last night at city hall.

The controversial issue of what to do about truck traffic through the city was the central topic of discussion and at one point became somewhat heated.

The plan turned down was recommended by a three-man committee under the chairmanship of Councilman-at-large Robert G. Haldeman.

Defeated by a 4-3 vote was a Haldeman motion to "request the Marion County Commissioners to acquire the necessary lands and right-of-way to make Barks Road a state route."

Under this plan, Barks Road—located just south of the city limits and running east and west between Route 4 and 23—would be widened and improved so that Route 4 traffic could be sent east to Route 23 and through the city on Delaware Ave. and Main St.

This was a plan decided on at a public meeting of the special committee, city officials, members of the Chamber of Commerce Streets and Highways Committee, residents of S. Prospect St. and other interested persons, which was held June 15.

Voting for the Barks Road bypass plan were Harold Smith, First Ward; Herman Rinehart, Third Ward, and Haldeman. Against it were Don Quaintance, Fifth Ward, and a member of the special committee, Tom Clark, at-large, James C. Jenkins, Second Ward, and Louis Conkle, Fourth Ward.

Residents Object

The rerouting proposal met with considerabel opposition by Delaware Ave. and S. Main St. residents. They presented a petition signed by some 75 persons calling on Council to make no change which would add more truck traffic to their streets. They pointed out that the traffic on Delaware Ave. and S. Main St. is already heavy and addition of more would only add to their problems.

One woman living on Delaware Ave. said theer is "nothing fair or just or reasonable in bringing added traffic to Delaware Ave."

Another resident said she lives near Prospect St. but owns a house on Delaware Ave. and that changing the route from one street to another is not the solution needed. She said she feels the only plan possible is the establishment of a by-pass route around the city.

Haldeman pointed out that the proposal by his special committee was not made only to take traffic off S. Prospect St. It was also thought this would help eliminate a serious problem at S. Prospect and W. Columbia Sts. The heavy trucks making turns at this intersection cause traffic tie-ups at the corner, he said.

Suggests Alternate Plan

Quaintance suggested this portion of the problem be solved by sending the trucks north on Prospect St. from W. Columbia St. to George St. then east to N. Main St.

This met with opposition because of the no turn rule at W. Center and Prospect St. which would prevent trucks from turning onto Route 30-S east or west and because of the narrowness of the street.

Safety-Service Director Ralph Forrest said it would be necessary to take parking off one side of the street before this route could be used.

Nevertheless Council approved a motion made by Quaintance that legislation be brought before it at the next Council meeting to establish this route. This is to include the elimination of parking from one side of the street.

Discussion then continued on oth-

be striving to attain such unity again on major legislation.

The minority obviously had in mind the possibility of upsetting a much more important Republican applecart in legislation to extend the reciprocal trade agreements program for a year.

Administration leaders got the bill passed in the House only by a compromise with GOP members who wanted to revise the whole trade program. This was done with an amendment to increase the Tariff Commission from six to seven members, a move aimed at giving Republicans control.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas the Senate's Democratic leader, said that if the bill comes out of the Senate Finance Committee in this form, Democrats will fight vigorously against the seven-member provision. Sen. George (D-Ga) said the proposal would put tariff decisions "in the hands of a political commission and I'm opposed to it."

Areas of European Russia in which travel is now permitted include:

1. Most of the Soviet Union's Black Sea coast, including the Crimean Peninsula and such resort centers as Yalta—scene of a famous wartime Big Three meeting, Sochi, Adler and Gagry. Only three Crimean cities, Sevastopol, Kerch and Fedosiya, remain on the restricted list.

2. The arctic ports of Murmansk and Archangel.

3. All of the Ukraine except the western regions and the Black Sea port of Nikolavesk. The order removed previous restrictions on visits to Kiev, the Ukrainian capital, and apparently means that the Dnieper Dam and the industrial Donbas region also may be viewed.

4. All of Byelorussia (White Russia), including its capital city of Minsk. This Soviet republic takes in the border area just east of Poland.

5. All of Soviet Armenia. This region is in the Caucausus, just north of Turkey.

6. All of Soviet Azerbaijan, except the southern area near the Iranian border. Train travel from Baku, oil port on the Caspian Sea, to Tbilisi (Tiflis) also will be permitted.

KILLED IN CRASH

DOVER, O. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old Frederick Maus, riding home from a swimming party with four other youths, was killed Monday in a two-car collision 11 miles north of here.

UP FOR PROMOTION

WASHINGTON (AP)—Capt. Karl L. Lange, Akron, O., a line officer, was among 11 reserve officers selected by the Navy Monday for promotion to rear-admiral.

The bones of the Indian chief, Sitting Bull, have been moved from North Dakota to South Dakota.

Lausche's Levity Over 5th Term No Joke to GOP

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio will get a different governor—at least by 1957.

That was the promise Monday night of the state's four-term chief executive, Frank J. Lausche.

Joking with legislative correspondents dining at the governor's mansion, Lausche read a "speech" dated Jan. 10, 1955, the next inaugural day.

"I will not again be a candidate for governor," he said. "At the end of this term I will retire to private life and calm practice of law." That leaves the question open whether the governor will run in 1954-no joking matter for is Republican opponents.

Wins GM Better Highways Award

Want Something Different? Try Brioche

Along with the lightness of heart she's noted for, France has contributed some deliciously simple foods—brioche, those tiny crusty rich loaves, for example. Our Gallic cousins spend many hours preparing them but with this American version, you'll find you'll need little time and the result is equally as delicious.

AMERICAN BRIOCHE

Ingredients: 1 cup milk, scalded, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 compressed yeast cakes, ¼ cup lukewarm water, ½ cup melted butter or margarine, 2 eggs, beaten, 5½ to 6 cups sifted flour, egg yolk glaze.

Method: Combine scalded milk, sugar and salt. Stir until sugar dissolves. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water. Combine yeast and milk mixture. Add butter or margarine and eggs; mix well. Add flour gradually until a soft dough is formed.

Knead slightly. Cover and let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk. Knead slightly again. Make 24 balls of dough about 2 inches in diameter, using 2-3 of dough. Place in greased muffin pans or deep-fluted tart shell pans. Form remaining dough into 24 small balls about ¾ inch in diameter and set firmly on larger balls.

Cover; let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Brush with egg yolk glaze. Bake in moderate oven, 350 F., 20 minutes or until deep golden brown. Makes 2 dozen brioche.

Egg Yolk Glaze: Combine 1 egg yolk, beaten, 1 teaspoon sugar and 1 tablespoon heavy cream and mix well. Brush on brioche with pastry brush just before baking.

Actor's Estranged Wife Loses Car

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor John Wayne's estranged wife Esperanza is without a car today.

Two Los Angeles County marshals seized her auto yesterday because of an allegedly unpaid liquor and grocery bill totaling $2,367.

Earlier this month the Superior Court turned down Mrs. Wayne's bid for $9,350 monthly temporary alimony and said she'd have to get along on $1,100. Trial of her separate maintenance suit is due Oct. 19.

For the past 20 years more people have migrated to Sweden than have left that country.

CIRCLE ENTERTAINED

The Far and Near Circle of Wesley Methodist Church was entertained Monday night, June 15, at the home of Miss Ida Habluetzel, 223 N. State St. Mrs. Beth Monk conducted devotions, and Mrs. Mabel Snyder, assistant chairman, presided for the meeting. Plans were made for the annual picnic to be held Aug. 17 at the home of Mrs. Margaret Edington, 511 Forest St.

Wins Scholarship Honors at Purdue

Paul J. Menzer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Menzer of 534 S. Vine St., was among 71 students from Purdue University who attained a distinguished rating in scholarship work during the second semester of the 1952-1953 academic year, the University reported today.

To attain this rating, Menzer maintained a five point grade in all subjects carried during the semester. A six-point rating is perfect.

Menzer, who was graduated in June, is now employed as a mechanical engineer for the Euclid Road Machinery Co. in Euclid. He and his wife, the former Barbara Lee of Marion, now make their home in East Cleveland.

While at Purdue, Menzer was a member of Phi Kappa Psi, social fraternity; Pi Tau Sigma, a national honorary mechanical engineers' fraternity; and the Skull and Crescent, an organization whose members have distinguished themselves by scholastic achievement and extra-curricular activities.

Besides the fraternities, Menzer was also a member of the Student Union and the Varsity Debate team, and the American Mechanical Engineer Society.

Also named to the distinguished rating list was David Lee Burke of Upper Sandusky. He is a sophomore taking physical education.

California Outlaws Communist Party

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren has signed into law a bill intended to outlaw the Communist party in California.

The bill declares a political party will not be recognized if it advocates violent overthrow of the government, or sabotage against it. It was signed yesterday.

The Communists have not been on the California ballot for years.

By Choosing Concrete for its Turnpike Ohio Is Assured Savings of Millions

WHEN the Ohio Turnpike Commission chose concrete for the Ohio Turnpike it took a step that will save highway users millions of dollars.

After thoroughly analyzing various pavement designs for the enormous traffic volumes anticipated on the Ohio Turnpike, the consulting engineers found it would cost $2,803,000 less to build the turnpike pavement with portland cement concrete.

In addition to low initial cost, savings will be realized in maintenance costs. Concrete costs much less to maintain than other pavements, as shown by official State Highway Department records issued by 24 states covering an average period of 21 years.

More than 80 per cent of the mileage on turnpikes and toll roads in operation or under construction in America is paved with portland cement concrete. An outstanding example familiar to Ohioans is in neighboring Pennsylvania. The original 160-mile section of this, America's first modern turnpike, was built with portland cement concrete in 1940.

In 1950, after ten years of financing, operating and maintaining the turnpike, and after reviewing improvements in design, materials and construction methods, the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission used concrete for a 100-mile eastern extension.

In 1951 the Commission again specified concrete for a 67-mile western extension. Now it is using concrete for the 33-mile Delaware River extension.

This overwhelming preference for concrete is natural. It is safer. It has uniformly high skid resistance, wet or dry. You can see much better on it at night. The highway user thus is assured that the ultimate in safety and long years of service has been designed into the Ohio Turnpike at the most economical cost.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

RIESEL

At a thousand mass demonstrations across the Communist world these past May Days professional song leaders would strike up a favorite, deep-throated hymn of hate. Across the densely packed squares you could hear them sing:

"Banker and boss hate the workers who stand, shoulder to shoulder in every land. So hear the thunder of the toiling masses . . ."

Well, the thunder was heard this week. Not by bankers and bosses, but by the Politburo of the "Workers' Paradise". That thunder was drowned out by the louder roar of tank and gun fire.

Even as our own government was quietly trying to talk U. S. construction workers at the mammoth Paducah atomic energy (bomb) plant into ending the latest of some 65 crippling strikes, the Soviet leaders sent in a full Russian armored division to put down forcibly the first strike by construction workers behind the Curtain.

WHAT DROVE these German workers into the MVD's machine guns? The word "norm" as been used—increased norms—but what is it that frenzied a stoical people into mass suicide?

It was more than an arbitrary Soviet increase in the amount of production each worker must deliver in an hour, which is what the "norm" is.

The 10 per cent speed-up, ordered by the Soviets, which passed the endurance mark—for it topped a dozen previous speedup orders—was but the trigger which set off the revolt.

The East Germans are living in literal holes. They are wearing the equivalent of papier mache clothing. They are hungry.

They must get up at 4 a.m. to stand patiently in line for sugar or milk for their children. After hours of waiting, they have found that someone before them got the last drop of milk.

Then they go on, bitterly, to their offices, or plants, or mines to fill a norm set, not by their unions, which are just registration offices, but by production functionaries in Moscow with an eye on the Soviet's military needs.

THEY HAVE watched their women dragooned into night work in mines and electrical plants.

They have read official editorials suggesting that nurseries for their youngsters be set up at the mine mouths and factory gates. There the working women can put their children six days a week.

They have seen nurses and doctors brutalized for telling workers they will die if they push themselves harder.

They have heard from mine workers that diggers at Dorog, Hungary, and elsewhere, have worked seven hours at a stretch in pits so flooded that dank, stinking water was up to the men's knees.

Their leaders, such as the railwaymen's Irme Molner, have been executed for accidents which could not be prevented.

My old friends in the International Transport Workers Federation tell of the 20 railwaymen arrested in East Germany recently for "delaying trains destined for the Soviet Army by faulty planning." They report that the new disciplinary code for railwaymen is worse than those decreed by Hitler.

Frenzy marks every official Soviet move to keep the vast Soviet machine from collapsing.

THE SOVIET'S Deputy General Manager of railways, R. Staimer, said recently:

"The strengthening of our national defense demands extreme vigilance, iron discipline, discipline stricter than any we have known hiterto in the history of our transport industry. This discipline means absolute submission to the will of one's superiors."

Such pressure breaks machines and men. There is no rest.

When the men ask for surcease, they are executed by secret police. Up to the recent riots, there is record of hundreds of such MVD shootings.

NOT TOO LONG ago, grimness was summed by Czech Premier Zapotocky, who was reported by the Voice of America as stating:

"Under capitalism, Communists fight for the eight-hour day so that the workers will have more time to study Stalinism and organize to overthrow the bourgeoisie. But in Czechoslovakia, capitalism has already been overthrown, so the workers do not need the eight-hour day.

"What was once revolutionary has become reactionary. Not eight hours, but a workers' entire lifetime, his whole life, belongs to the state."

And Zapotocky's minister of education Nejedly added:

"Some people talk about the eight-hour day as though they had accomplished everything when they finish their eight hours of work. Unless workers stop frittering away free time, something might have to be done about it."

It was, wages were cut in half and another day was added to the week, thereby increasing the list of inventions with the eight-day week.

IN OUR capitalist land? The auto industry has just given Walter Reuther's followers an increase to pay for their added skill and added production.

A hundred unions are signing 35-hour-week contracts.

There have been thousands of strikes and no one has had to call even for the iodine.

So now is the time to remind the workers in Sovietland of their anthem, The Internationale:

"Arise ye prisoners of starvation. Arise ye wretched of the earth."

Ye are, indeed, the wretched ones. You have nothing to lose but your chains!

Beware of False Rumors

False and injurious gossip and rumors circulate with ease and speed even in communities where it seems such fabrications could not be started, much less being allowed to gain widespread proportions.

But strangely enough, this does happen, and circulation of the baseless and damaging talk is thoughtlessly and carelessly aided and abetted by people who do not believe what they have been told but who at the same time pass it on to other ears by saying "Have you heard so and so?"

Rumors and gossip of this sort can be stopped and should be stopped immediately by labeling them as the lies they are and by helping to prevent other persons from keeping the false and poisonous talk circulating.

Groundless rumors damaging to the public welfare and to individuals are likely to get going at any time, but it is in a period of widespread unrest and strife such as this that false reports are most readily hatched and kept in motion.

Just where and how talk of this sort starts is difficult if not impossible to determine. It is known, however, that this is the method used by radical interests and agencies to undermine the American way of life, its government, business and industries. It is known that in other countries the first step of radical forces to gain control has been to set their representatives secretly at work breeding underground rumors and attacks upon leaders in community affairs so as to stir up public distrust. There is every reason to believe that these same operations could be at work in this greatest and most glorious of all countries.

In these United States of America the people make up the first and most formidable line of defense of their welfare, peace and security. They provide this safeguard in every community. They can and should exercise their power as defenders first of all by scotching all false rumors and gossip which cast reflections on the honor and integrity of good citizens occupying places of importance and public responsibility. And almost invariably it can be taken for granted that such rumors and gossip are untrue. If true, they would not be circulated in furtive undertones and out of the corners of mouths, but would be placed before the public speedily in print and through other open means of communication. That is the American way.

So let us be wary of tales involving the good names of persons occupying places of importance and trust. Keep in mind that only those in important posts are likely to be targets of widely circulated poisonous attacks. Keep in mind, too, that back of those false attacks may be a motive designed to damage and disrupt the community they represent.

Don't be an innocent aid to the circulation of a false rumor by passing it on with a "Did you hear so and so?" Rather, as a good and wise citizen, help give it the immediate death and deep burial that it ought to have.

Reds Make Truce Decision

The original proposal for a truce in Korea came from a spokesman for the Soviet Union in the United Nations. It originally was the Kremlin's idea to end the Korean war by negotiation.

Whenever the Kremlin decides to carry out the idea, the war will end. The Reds have the initiative. The United Nations truce team has avoided scrupulously doing anything to give the Reds any reason to believe they could shift responsitility for prolonging the war to their opponents.

Yet, this fact which has been so clear for so long is suddenly blotted out by fear that South Korea's release of a few thousand prisoners of war may cause the Reds to change their minds about a truce. They do not change their minds that easily.

If and when they want to end the war, they will end it.

If they want to end it now, they will do so with no more delay. If they do not want to end it now, the United Nations command headed by Gen. Clark will have to keep on fighting.

The decision belongs to the Reds. It always has belonged to them. They started the war when they were ready, and they can end it when they're ready.

A 20th Century Diana

Somebody should raise a flag in print for Mrs. Irene Morden of Chappaqua, N.Y., who at 50 has just flown to Africa to hunt jungle beasts and reptiles for the American Museum of Natural History. Her husband, 67, went along, "but I'll do the shooting" assures Mrs. Morden. Within easy memory, it was expected that a woman of 50 was about ready for a rocking chair. Riding a horse astride was socially ostracizing, chaperonage was of major concern, ladies fainted at will, legs were limbs and well-swaddled, and it simply wasn't done for a woman to fly to the African jungles to shoot rhinoceri and snare anacondas. Almost every day one reads of some such prototype of continuing feminine emancipation, and occasionally a mere man is bested at some traditional masculine pursuit. This is all splendid, indeed. After killing or capturing some African animals and snakes, no doubt Mrs. Morden will clear that ultimate test of female courage—baiting her own fishhook with a real live angleworm.

Rosenberg Memorial

By David Lawrence

Shrine to Spies Should Be in Land of Allegiance

President Eisenhower's tense moments while waiting for the Rosenbergs to tell all they knew to demonstrate their allegiance to the United States instead of to Soviet Russia had in some respects a curious parallel to the last day's incidents just before Gen. Washington in 1780 ordered the execution of Major Andre, British spy.

Last week reference was made in these columns to the treason of Benedict Arnold and the dispatch should have explained that it was his accomplice, Major Andre, who paid the death penalty.

Arnold himself escaped and had the effrontery to demand that Gen. Washington grant clemency to Andre failing which Arnold threatened reprisals against Continental prisoners in the hands of the British.

But Gen. Washington was unmoved. He did grant a reprieve at the last minute on the day the execution was first ordered.

Then he postponed it only until a hearing could be granted to a British major general and two civilian lawyers who came by permission across from enemy lines to argue that Andre had entered the Continental lines under a flag of truce and hence was not deserving of the death penalty.

While Gen. Washington agreed to have one of his generals receive the delegation he made it clear he was not receiving them as "bargaining representatives of a hostile government that had nothing to do with the enforcement of American military law."

Gen. Washington read the report of the conference that same evening and decided that nothing new had been adduced.

Gen. Greene, who conducted the conversations in behalf of Gen. Washington, had offered to exchange Major Andre for Benedict Arnold but the British commander scorned the offer.

A few hours later Gen. Washington again ordered the execution and disregarded a letter from Andre himself that he be permitted to die like a soldier from the bullets of a firing squad instead of on the gallows.

Washington took the position that under military law all spies had to hang and that it was important to let all potential spies know that such a fate would await them. He so reported to the Continental Congress.

Oddly enough there was a general sympathy with Major Andre throughout the Continental camps because of his forthrightness when captured. He freely admitted that he did not come under a flag of truce, as the British commander had tried to argue.

He was a bit of a hero even with some of the Continental officers including LaFayette and Hamilton who gladly would have exchanged him for Arnold but Washington did not allow sentiment to interfere as he denied a personal plea for leniency from Andre himself.

There is a significant contrast, too, between the way the Andre case was handled and the reports that have been coming in from East Germany about the execution by the Communists of alleged "Western Agents" who were promptly put to death last week without even so much as a hearing or a trial or a chance to present evidence.

This is something the demonstrators for the Rosenbergs might note.

The United States did give the two spies many months for a trial and appeals and pleas and at the last moment the highest court in the land which rarely grants a hearing in criminal cases already decided by juries and courts —sat in special session to hear certain legal aspects of the case.

When German spies were landed on the American coast from a submarine during World War II they were given a trial not only by a military tribunal but the case was submitted for review to the Supreme Court.

Whether or not one agrees with the wisdom of a system whereby a single justice can grant a stay of execution, this is the present rule and what Justice Douglas did turned out to be a further rebuttal to skeptics abroad who may have felt that the United States did not give the fullest opportunity to the Rosenbergs to prove their innocence and to make a confession that would have spared their lives.

The Rosenbergs preferred, however, to die in loyalty to Soviet Russia.

If any monument is to be set up to commemorate their defiance of the United States, it properly should be erected over their graves in Soviet Russia — where their bodies should be sent—rather than to permit a "shrine to Communism" to be established in Brooklyn as reportedly planned by the demonstrators for the Rosenbergs.

Get a Horse!

By TRUMAN TWILL

It had been so long since newspapers worried about the vanishing horse that some of us had concluded he finally had vanished, except at race tracks.

But it turns out there still are 4,370,000 horses on farms. This is one tenth as many as there used to be, but it proves the vanishing horse hasn't vanished yet.

To be different, herewith is a prediction the horse has touched bottom and is going to make a comeback. This prediction is based on the probability that public authority will be stupid enough to tax trucks and tractors into a hole, plus the certainty that the more things change the more they are the same.

Tax legislators and tax collectors show no sign of curbing their greed at the expense of modern tools of transportation. They have piled tax on tax, until buyers and owners of trucks, tractors and automobiles have begun to mutter, "Get a horse!"

There is only one thing tractors, trucks and cars can do that horses couldn't do. They can go faster. In every other respect, they are inefficient.

They do not reproduce themselves. A farmer who needs a new tractor cannot take the necessary steps to have one born in time to grow up and take the place of its mother.

They cannot be fed with the fruits of the land. You cannot turn a truck or a tractor out to pasture. And even though a horse eats when not working, like his owner, he does not eat anything that costs as much as gasoline.

Horses, moreover, can be talked to. They can be taken into a man's confidence, or cursed at and made the victim of his wrath, if he feels angry.

They can be taught to stop at the end of a cornfield or a buggy ride and turn around. They do not explode in the middle of a hard day's work when fue is added to them without proper precautions.

With the assistance of a blacksmith and a few pieces of steel, they grow their own tires. They possess built-in anti - freeze. They have no clutches to burn out. Their crank cases do not have to be filled with oil. They do not develop leaks, and their springs don't sag.

They require no spare parts at $15.29 a part, plus labor for installation.

Their original cost is low, and the upkeep is lower. Their by-products are useful. There is nothing cuter than a colt in a spring pasture, nothing so soothing to the nerves as a ride through the countryside in a rubber - tired buggy back of an even-paced horse that has outgrown its skittishness.

If it sounds like wishful thinking to say the horse will be rediscovered and hailed as a sensational improvement, like wire wheels on modern automobiles and modern houses with fireplaces, the more things change the more they are the same.

Tax legislators and collectors will never rest until they have squeezed the last penny of revenue from engine - driven vehicles. That has been the tendency of the taxers from the beginning of time. They always overdo it.

They will finally make it so expensive not to own and operate horses that millions of us will go back to the equine age in self-defense. And once we have decided to do it, all of us will be better off. There will be no more crop surpluses, no more nervous breakdowns, no more farm subsidies, no more traffic jams, no more traffic accident tolls — just millions of horses plodding along the way there used to be, with millions of people plodding along behind them.

Plans Ready to Counteract Recession

By James E. Roper

A truce in Korea almost certainly will cause economic activity to dip. How far the slide goes will depend partly on you.

When the Korean War began, inflation psychology caused economic activity — and prices — to skyrocket. As the war apparently nears an end, a psychology of doom could drag the nation into a recession.

Administration economists don't expect that to happen. What they expect, they say, is a "readjustment." This is the new-type name for an economic downturn that is milder than even a recession.

The readjustment would result from cutbacks in government spending and from disruptions that some segments of business will suffer as they put more emphasis on civilian markets and less on military markets.

Reductions in military spending probably will be significant, but not as large as might be expected at first glance. Some estimates are that the Korean War has been costing the United States $5 billion a year. If peace comes, we won't save all that money — perhaps barely $2 billion.

Much of this saving will come because the U.S. armed forces won't shoot so much ammunitoin or break up as many aircraft and tanks. But U.S. however, may set up economic aid to Korea and keep large military garrisons in the Far East.

Then, too, some of America's heaviest military spending is just ahead — for aircraft ordered long ago, but only now hitting production peaks.

Some authorities say America's direct saving on the end of the Korean War represents little more than the tip of the over-all defense bill. An easier international situation, however, could ease some other defense expenditures, encourage cutbacks in foreign economic and speed Republican economies in government operations generally.

On balance, therefore, government spending is sure to decline after a Korean truce. How much this will be, nobody here can say for sure.

Undersecretary of Commerce Walter Williams tries to measure the defense cutback this way: About 15 per cent of the gross national product now goes to defense; after a Korean truce, the figure may drop to 10 per cent or even 8 per cent.

This is substantial. But compare it with World War II experience. In 1944, some 42 per cent of the national effort went for defense. This dropped to 7 per cent by 1946.

No depression resulted. The slack was made up quickly when industry shifted to fulfilling pent-up consumer demands.

After a Korean truce, a quickening of the civilian economy again must make up for the loss of government spending.

The administration hopes consumers and businessmen keep their spending on an even keel. If individuals or corporations become frightened by a dip in the economy, they well might start holding onto their money. They could do this out of fear of the future or out of the expectation that prices will go lower.

Business and jobs depend not so much on the existence of money, but on the flow of money. Once that flow is halted, business stalls and jobs disappear. That causes more businesses to stall and still more jobs to disappear.

Washington figures that only this kind of downward spiral — born of fear or cupidity — could cause a serious recession blamed on a Korean truce.

To forestall unjustified fears that could be touched of by the "readjustment" period, the administration is trying to get all Americans to anticipate and understand the mild and temporary business decline that Washington expects.

Undersecretary Williams puts it thsi way:

"We must recognize that in a free economy—a static economy can be had only under a totalitarian government — we must accept the fact that business moves in cycles according to changing times.

"After a Korean truce, it is obvious that there are adjustments to be made not only in individual business but in the economy as a whole.

"These adjustments, however, certainly would seem in no sense to portend recession or depression of severe proportions."

Economists argue over the ability of the civilian markets to make up the gap that declines in government spending would leave. Statistics point in every direction.

Agricultural prices are skidding so farmers may be spending less.

Consumers already owe more on their charge accounts than ever before, indicating their future buying power might be curtailed.

Department store sales are uninspired.

Sales of television sets and some other electrical appliances may be slowing.

Home building shows dangers of slipping.

Automobile production is booming, used cars are selling only at knocked-down prices. This sluggishness could spread to the new-car market with effects on steel, rubber and other industries.

On the bullish side is the fact that businessmen plan to put up new plants at a surprising rate. Industrial building was expected to fall off at midyear, but now the trend is at least sideways, and maybe up through September.

Millions of Americans have bank accounts and other liquid savings that could encourage them to spend when they think the time and price are right.

Consumer prices remain near the all-time high, and there's not much prospect of a real decline in price tags on necessities. Even if agricultural prices continue downward — and a Korean truce could speed the decline — only a small part of the drop would be passing along to consumers. Any lessening of demand, however, could bring price reductions on luxury and semi-luxury items.

The administration will watch the way the nation's economy rolls with the punch of peace. If business starts to stagger, the government would rush in with first aid.

The first sniff of smelling salts probably would be in the form of loosened credit. Republicans intent on curbing inflation have boosted interest rates on government bonds and this was spread throughout the economy. This tends to discourage borrowing because of the cost. This has brought a number of complaints from borrowers. But the Republicans' tightening of credit in the last few months has given them just that much reserve strength. They can loosen credit—encourage borrowing and spending — when they think the economy needs it.

The administration also is drawing up long-range plans for government pump-priming should the economy dip too low. Republicans talk mostly about building roads and schools rather than building big dams or raking leaves as the New Dealers did.

Another way to increase consumer power is to cut taxes. If the truce really develops, tax cuts for individuals and corporations seem assured. This would give quick pep to the conomy.

While the post-Korean economy may suffer some painful bruises, the underlying structure is strong, and the government stands ready to try to cure any real illness that could develop.

With these facts in mind, administration men like Williams tell anxious businessmen and consumers:

"Don't worry. Take it easy. We're doing fine."

Square Dances Popular

BOXBORO, Mass. (AP)—"It's very strange, but it seems city folks make the best square dancers," says Bob Treyze, square dance caller and farmer. He should know. He has called for dance groups on the American east coast from 10 up to 3,000. He says it's a wholesome sign "When you see whole families coming to square dances together." He thinks the group fun of square dancing, now producing greater enthusiasm in cities than in the country, is an answer to shyness, awkwardness and juvenile delinquency. And it doesn't cost much: Just a few records and a good caller.

A curious thing happened when Treyze conducted a sort of United Nations square dance for students from many different parts of the world.

"The men and women, all from far-off countries, danced together as though they had done it all the time," Treyze says.

The Once Over

When Lucille Ball and Desi Arnez stepped aside for the Ford telecast the other night would you say that "I Love Lucy" gave way to "I Love Lizzie"?

Many a corporation board spending big dough on TV and radio is doing a lot of thinking as a result of the two-hour Ford program which was not interrupted for a single sales-pitch. Fed up with the long-winded, frequent and pretty silly commercials, the TV audience found the Ford show an answer to its prayer.

Henry Ford II, who spent $500,000 for the telecast, settled for an introduction so biref that no fifth-assistant scenic designer or gag writer would have accepted it, and he made no reference to himself or the auto business! ! !

Good taste, topdrawer showmanship and high quality talent were the keynotes . . . All the brash, noisy, (and oft offensive) comics of TV were brushed off by Ford, and only one comedian, Wally Cox, a whimsical artist in the high traditions of American humor, used.

(What a sock at the comics who confuse comedy with sweat, go after laughs with the delicacy of a battering-ram and fill the living rooms with blushes!)

Highlights in our book were Mary Martin and Ethel Merman in their son "rodeo," Marian Anderson, whose throat is a cathedral organ, and the exceptional singing by Eddie Fisher of the exceptional song "I Believe," a number that could well be sung by all the church choirs of the land.

The Yanks are so far out ahead in the American League race that the other teams are thinking of taking over those Panmunjom tents and asking a truce. The baseball fan is a fickle fellow, and when the Yanks lost the nineteenth after eighteen straight we heard one cynic crack, "they just ain't got it, that's all. They just ain't got it."

The hubbub over President Eisenhower's Dartmouth remarks on bookburning amuses us. Nobody has been suggesting book-burning, but merely the withdrawal from our campaign to promote the American concept of life all books into which the Communist slant has been worked by all-out agents of Moscow. When Ike told them "Don't be a book burner" nobody was more surprised and puzzled than the Dartmouth students assembled for graduating exercises. The only books they had ever thought of burning were ones giving the wrong dope on ski-jumping and other winter sports at Hanover.

Trouble in Germany

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rioting East Germans have dealt their Russian Communist masters major damage if only in the field of propaganda. At the same time they have complicated matters for the Western Allies.

Shifting tactics after Stalin's death, the Russians talked of peace and indicated they might relax their iron-handed grip here and there.

They even appeared to be moving in that direction by shifting their occupation control in East Germany from military to civilian hands. But the discontent of the East Germans had long been plain.

The steady flow of refugees into West Germany was proof of that. And, with less publicity, the Russians held the screws tight on the East Germans.

Last week's rebels demanded lower work quotas, lower consumer goods prices, freedom for political prisoners, free elections, and reunification of East and West Germany.

Since Russian suppression of the revolt with troops, tanks and firing squads was testimony only to their power and not to their persuasiveness, thecause of the revolt remains: fierce hatred in East Germany of the Russians.

And it was the greatest demonstration against Russian control of the satellites since the war. It was encouragement to other satellite peoples to do the same, if they dared.

This break for the Allies, making hash of Russian claims for the wonders of communism, nevertheless created a serious problem for the Western Allies on the question of reunifying Germany.

This was a haunting question ever since the war, when Russia held East Germany and the United States, France and Britain occupied three zones which make up West Germany.

Eventually the Western Allies set up the West German Republic; the Russians created a puppet East German government. On both sides of the line, millions of Germans longed for a single, reunited Germany.

But a new, free, independent and united Germany—linked in with the West—would be the greatest economic and military barrier to any Russian moves against Western Europe.

It is no wonder the Reds have stalled on agreements to let the Germans, East and West, have free elections to set up their own, single government. The public display of how the East Germans feel about them will probably make them now even more reluctant to permit reunification.

The West Germans, or many of them, felt a need for some military defense against Russian ambitions in the West. The French wanted no part of a new German army on their frontiers.

When the groundwork was laid for setting up a single Western European army—uniting under one command troops from various Western countries, including Germany—Western Germany's Chancellor Adenauer agreed.

But France backed away from even that kind of set-up. The single European army idea has been losing ground. Now as a result of the riots Germans, East and West, renew their demands for unification.

This makes tougher going for the U. S., which supported and urged the single European army plan when it became plain reunification was a long way off.

To quiet the East Germans, whose uprising displayed their attitude toward Moscow, the Russians may talk more about permitting unification. It is difficult to see their agreeing to it.

But by talking unification, holding out bait to the Germans, the Russians can try to mess up any U. S. efforts to push for the single European army at this time.

So while American problems get complicated in Korea they get complicate in Western Europe too.

French Soon to Need New President

PARIS (AP) — France, which has had to look for a premier 19 times since World War II, soon will have to find a new president.

The incumbent, Socialist Vincent Auriol, winds up a seven-year term in December. Awarding scholastic prizes at the Sorbonne University last night, he said: "Today is the last time definitely and irrevocably that I will preside over tis ceremony."

The students' vacations were "well earned," Auriol said, adding:

"Maybe I, too, have earned mine."

WILL ATTEND JAMBOREE

Gregg Cass, 13, of Evansville, Ind., who has been visiting grandparents in Marion, left for home Sunday morning after he learned he had been chosen from his area to attend the international Boy Scout jamboree at California. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest W. Cass of Evansville and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kl g of 872 S Prospect St. and Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Cass of 454 N. Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Thome of 607 Oak St. are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter Karen to Pvt. Keith Stanley. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stanley of 714 Davids St.

Miss Thome is a 1952 graduate of St. Mary High School and is a clerk-typist at the Marion Engineer Depot. Her fiance, a graduate of Harding High School in 1952, is serving with the Combat Engineers and is attending leadership school at Indiantown Gap, Pa.

The wedding will be an event of Monday, June 29, at 10 a.m. in St. Mary Catholic Church.

Installation of officers of the Marseilles Mothers Club was held at a recent meeting in the home of Wilma Albert. Mrs. Ardena Bell was installed as president in a candlelight ceremony conducted by Mrs. Louise Hensel. Other officers installed were Mary Naus, vice president; Charlotte Leeth, corresponding secretary; Maxine Sloat, recording secretary; Irma Snavely, treasurer; and Bertha Mae Rose, reporter.

The topic, "Mental Health of the Family," was presented by Rosalie Barrett. A group discussion followed. During the business meeting presided over by the retiring president, Mrs. Ellen Emptage, Mrs. Bell announced her committees for the coming year. It was decided to hold a children's picnic July 15 in the Harrison-Smith Park at Upper Sandusky. Refreshments were served by the co-hostesses, Louise Hensel and Lois Wood.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Dolores Marilyn McClure of 254½ S. State St., and Robert L. Basinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Basinger of Columbus Grove, O. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. McClure of Lima.

The double ring wedding ceremony was performed Tuesday, June 9, at 9 p.m. by Dr. H. Perry Crouch, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Asheville, N.C. at the parsonage. The bride was attired in a white summer suit, white accessories and wore a white pearl choker and earring set.

Following the ceremony, the couple motored through the southern states and the Great Smoky Mountains. Upon their return to Lima, the bridegroom reported for induction into the U. S. Army at Toledo.

Mrs. Basinger, a 1950 graduate of Lima Central High School, attended Bowling Green University and is employed as a news reporter at The Marion Star. Her husband, a 1950 graduate of Columbus Grove High School, was formerly employed as salesman for the Northwest Seed Grain Co. He was employed for a short time at the Super Shell Service Station on E. Center St.

Announcement is being made here of the marriage of Miss Nancy H. Corry, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Willis Edward Corry, 3135 Coleridge Rd., Cleveland Heights, to Allen E. Uncapher. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Uncapher, near Ashland, former residents of the Green Camp area.

The wedding took place June 13 at the Fairmount Presbyterian Church in Cleveland Heights and the double ring ceremony was read at 7:30 o'clock in the evening by the Rev. John Schott, pastor.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Russell Gee, organist.

The bride was attired in a gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle. The skirt extended into a cathedral train.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Helen L. Woods, and bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Uncapher, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Ralph Jones, Miss Georgia L. Conner and Mrs. Daniel Wertman.

Serving as best man for the bridegroom was Richard W. Haffner of Ashland. Ushers were Stanley Uncapher, brother of the bridegroom, Willis E. Corry II, brother of the bride, Richard Bartholomew and Robert J. Kramer, Delta Tau Delta fraternity brothers.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the College Club in Cleveland Heights. Later the couple left on a wedding trip to Canada. They will make their home in East Cleveland.

Mrs. Uncapher is a graduate of Ohio University and was employed by the United States Air Force Procurement Office. Mr. Uncapher also is a graduate of Ohio University and is associated with the Cleveland Graphite Bronze Co. as accountant trainee.

ADOPT NEW FAMILY. Mr. and Mrs. Elkin C. Floyd pose happily in a Los Angeles court with their five new children. The Floyds—he's a commercial airplane pilot—wanted to adopt a boy to replace their son, killed in an accident. But the boy's brothers and sisters, all in a Virginia orphanage, were so appealing the Floyds took them all. A judge approved the adoption June 19. Left to right: Floyd; Nellie Marie, 17; Sandra Lee, 9; Charles David, 15; Marvin Randolph, 14; Barbara Ann, 12, and Mrs. Floyd. The expanding Floyd family lives on a ranch at Fallbrook, Calif.

Gov. Lausche Takes Stand On Truck Tax

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche, an avowed friend of the House-approved axle-mile tax on big trucks, today advised the Ohio Senate against a tax applied only against a truck's gross weight.

The governor's advice was directed to Sen. Donald H. Rolf (R-Hamilton), chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee which is about ready to come up with its version of what the truck tax should be. A committee session is scheduled tonight.

The governor's stand was made known in a letter to Rolf, which said:

"To equitably impose the financial burden of maintaining and constructing our highways, in my opinion, it is essential that whatever tax law is passed that it must have a relationship to the weight carried and the miles traveled."

Says Darling Case Justifies Work Of House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—"The Darling case alone has justified the work of the House Un-American Activities Committee," Rep. Scherer (R-Ohio) said today.

The case involves Dr. Byron T. Darling, a physics professor fired by Ohio State University for refusing to tell the House committee whether he was ever a Communist.

Scherer, whose subcommittee gave Darling a second chance to answer that question at Columbus last week, said he viewed as one committee accomplishment the removal of Darling from research work on an Air Force project at Ohio State.

A second accomplishment, he said, was that his hearing showed how the Communists operate. At the Columbus hearing, he said, witnesses testified Darling's wife and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Flo Webster, were Communists in Michigan in 1944.

Darling himself last week again refused to reply to questions about possible Communist association on the ground of possible self-incrimination.

But he did issue a statement after the hearing closed, saying that the Un-American Activities Committee was interfering with scientific research.

TRUCK-AUTO CRASH FATAL

VAN WERT, O. (AP) — Robert Coder, 39, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., died today of injuries received when his car struck the rear of a truck loaded with steel six miles west on Ohio 224.

Stage Mock Atomic Attack At Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, O. (AP)—Ohio had its first surprise mock atomic bomb attack Monday, and members of the State Highway Patrol and its auxiliary, which sponsored the test, pronounced it a success.

The patrol isolated Clark County from the rest of the state by setting up road blocks at 80 points of entry. Drivers who were stopped were handed a card explaining the test. The patrol estimated it stopped more than 1,000 motorists in the half-hour practice raid.

The patrol said the drill was designed to determine how quickly the county could be cut off from the rest of the state in order to pave the way for first aid work, restore order and isolate persons from radioactive contaminated areas.

CABLES RHEE

Maintenance Of Way Lodges Hold Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Railroad Maintenance of Way union lodges, C & O No. 88, New York Central No. 1974 and Erie No. 1900 was held in Marion Central Labor Union Hall Saturday afternoon and evening.

Ross Peters of Maumee, vice chairman of the union's state legislative committee conducted the afternoon meeting which was opened by the salute to the Flag and invocation by James Saunders, state chaplain.

Introductory remarks were made by Carl Bryant, vice president of the Marion Central Labor Union and Molders Union No. 386; Ray Beverly, secretary-treasurer of the Central Union and district business agent of the IAM; Edgar Murray, vice chairman of the NYC M of W Union; Leonard Screns, of Binghamton, N. Y., general chairman; Joseph Jerusick of Jersey City, vice chairman; Jim Dennis of Ashland, special representative of Erie 1900; William Tharp, president of Erie 1900; Joe White, secretary-treasurer of C & O 88; J. D. Brooks of Erie lodge 1730 of Kenton; Ralph Mishler, treasurer of NYC 1974 and Allen Webb, secretary of NYC 1974; Ed Burger of Ontario, O., secretary-treasurer of Erie 1900 and Don Hawk, trustee and special state delegate of Railroad Clerks Union No. 509.

Special speakers were J. W. Whanger, vice chairman of C & O system lodges; C. B. Bailey of Toledo, state chairman of RR clerks; and C. W. Vance of Columbus, chairman of the ORC state legislative committee.

A six o'clock dinner was prepared and served by Art Balls, Dick Balis and Robert Kincaid of the Erie; Ben Ross and Allen Webb of the NYC and C. D. Freshcorn and Hoyt Casto of the C and O lodges.

Entertainment, directed by Mrs. Goldie Swope, consisted of a recitation, "Little Orphane Annie," by Miss Judy Maddox, tap dance numbers by Misses Margaret Romine and Alma Turner and a accordion solo by Judy and Jerry Maddox. Mrs. Swope gave a vocal arrangement accompanied by Mrs. Eva Hunter.

Know Your Capitols"..

MISSOURI STATE CAPITOL JEFFERSON CITY

The Missouri State Capitol ranks high from both an architectural and practical aspect among the State Capitols of the nation. It is situated on the high bluffs of the Missouri River, located in picturesque and interesting Jefferson City. Construction was begun in 1913 and about four years later the superstructure was completed at a cost of $3,500,000...the landscaping and furnishings costing an additional $1,000,000. Underworld Slaying In Canton Probed

Authorities Seek Murderer Among Racketeer Clique

CANTON, O. (AP) — Police and sheriff's deputies, who once stalked John (Little Nick) Nickles in the underworld, mapped a hunt today for his murderer.

It was not known who killed the 58-year-old bachelor whose plush Blue Arrow keno club was closed by the state in April, 1951.

But the nature of the slayer was spelled in blood on the floor of the victim's own storage garage near the southeast city limits Monday. Nickles' body was found sprawled on the floor there, his face beaten brutally and two .38 caliber bullets in his head.

To coordinate the investigation, Prosecutor John Rossetti called a meeting today of all top law enforcement men in Stark County. Police already have quizzed a number of underworld figures, and Deputy Sherif Raymond Nunamaker promised "every racketeer in town is going to be questioned."

Neither police nor the sheriff would speculate officially whether they thought Nickles was the victim of a gangland murder. But one deputy told a reporter, "You know his background. Draw your own conclusions."

Prosecutor Rossetti said investigation so far failed to disclose the motive behind the killing.

Police have traced Nickles' movements up to 11 p. m. Sunday when a cab driver took him from City Sq., to the garage where he died. The driver told police he got a 10-cent tip for the ride.

Coroner E. B. Mozes said the slaying took place between two and four hours later. The body was found about 9 a. m. Monday by Tony Rosetti, an employe of Nickles' Park Oil & Gas Co., who went into the garage to get a jack.

In November, 1951, Nickles was convicted of receiving $23,500 worth of U. S. securities stolen from the Ornamental Iron Co. of Akron in 1948 and $16,000 worth of similar bonds stolen from the Gent Machinery Co. in South Euclid in 1949. An appeal from the 3-to 21-year prison sentence he got from that case was scheduled for a hearing Wednesday. Nickles had said he got the bonds as loan collateral from the late Joe Artwell, of Cleveland.

Broken Water Pipe Causes Oklahoma Judge to Break Law

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Hizzoner the judge was in a legal tizzy yesterday.

He accidently violated a city statute, and as he frantically tried to patch things up, he came close to breaking another law.

It all started with a broken water pipe at Judge Evert Crismore's home. His wife woke up and told the judge the lawn was soaking up a lot of water.

Ordinarily, that wouldn't be anything to get excited about.

But in drought-dry Oklahoma City, where the water supply is disappearing faster than apple pie in an orphan's home, a wet lawn can be embarrassing. A city statute says lawn watering is out this summer.

With visions of irate neighbors swimming through his mind, the judge leaped into his car at 5 a. m. and raced for the nearest plumber. Sleepily, the plumber told him all he had to do was take a cutoff tool and stop his water supply. He gave the judge the proper tool.

As Crismore fished for the water valve, he suddenly remembered another city statute. Only a plumber or a water department employe is permitted to touch the gadget.

The judge put the wrench down and called the water department, waiting patiently for the emergency man to show up. Meanwhile, neighbors with raised eyebrows began hopping into their cars to go to work, driving past the shimmering green Crismore lawn.

By now, it was the best-looking lawn in town.

The water man came, turned off the supply, and told the judge when the pipe was fixed he would turn it on.

Crismore, back on the bench, was a little more lenient with the accused defendants that afternoon. He said he now knew first hand what it meant to be caught in a web of circumstantial evidence.

Federal Grand Jury Indicts Two Women

CLEVELAND (AP)— The federal grand jury, winding up 16 months duty Monday night, indicted two women on embezzling charges.

One indictment was against Mrs. Elizabeth Bobo, 52, of Akron and the other against Mrs. Ruth Elizabeth Jones, 48, of Alliance.

Frank E. Steel, assistant United States attorney, said shortages of $8,700 were found in the Goodyear Employes Credit Union fund. Mrs. Bobo was assistant treasurer from 1941 to 1951.

Steel said around $2,000 was missing from the City Savings & Trust Co. in Alliance where Mrs. Jones was a teller for 3½ years.

The attorney said all the money was replaced at Alliance and that part of the funds were restored at Akron.

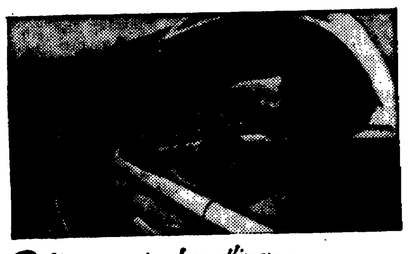
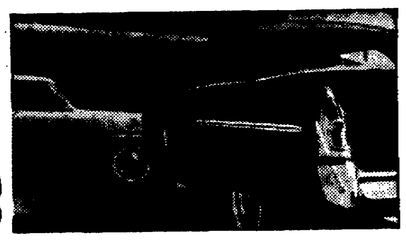
Mercury now brings you POWER STEERING



3 times easier handling Whenever more than finger-tip pressure is needed on the wheel, new Mercury power steering goes to work . . . removes the strain from parking and turning, yet doesn't sacrifice that safe "feel of the road."

POWER BRAKES



50% easier stopping An ounce of toe pressure is multiplied hydraulically into pounds of braking power. Your foot pivots effortlessly from accelerator to the closer, lower suspended brake pedal, giving faster, smoother stops.

4-way POWER SEAT

MOVES up and down, too New first-in-class 4-way power seat gives you the position from which you can see the best, drive the easiest. Handy for raising you out of the sun's glare and shifting your position for more relaxation.

Power steering, power brakes, 4-way power seat, white side-wall tires and full-disc hubcaps optional at extra cost.

Co-op Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN" with Ed Sullivan, Sunday evening 7:00 to 8:00, Station WBNS, Channel 10.

Here are three big reasons for adding Mercury to your "must" list to see and try.

For Mercury's far-advanced power steering removes all the real work from driving and parking. Mercury's power brakes take little more toe pressure than the accelerator. And Mercury's power seat adjusts four ways to give you new driving comfort and safety.

Add Mercury's years-ahead styling, famous economy, proven V-8 engine backed by our exclusively V-8 history, and a reputation for the highest trade-in value in its field—and you get more for your money with Mercury.

Book-Burning To Be Probed By McCarthy

Plans More Public Hearings to Look For Red Authors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarty (R-Wis), wading back into the controversy over "book burning," said today he plans more public hearings designed to show whether some of the authors involved were Communists.

McCarthy said his Senate investigations subcommittee will call 15 or 20 more authors whose books have been used in U. S. information libraries overseas for public questioning about possible Communist affiliations. He announced no date.

McCarthy had demanded that the State Department take from the shelves of the libraries, maintained overseas to give native readers access to U. S. literature, what he termed 30,000 "Communist books."

The New York Times, on the basis of a survey in 20 foreign capitals, reported yesterday that several hundred books by more than 40 authors had been removed. It said there had been six confidential directives on the subject from the State Department since Feb. 19, and that interpretation of the orders varied from capital to capital.

The Times listed these as among the better known authors whose works were removed in at least some libraries: Lillian Hellman, Clarence K. Streit, Langston Hughes, Walter Duranty, Dashiell Hammett, Howard Fast and Edgar Snow.

The Times said it found only one library, in Tokyo, where it was conceded that in the early stages "many" books and periodicals had been "burned or scrapped for pulping."

Only 16 authors, the Times said, have been listed specifically by the State Department in its book-culling operation.

President Eisenhower spoke out on June 14 against "the book burners," and there was some speculations he had McCarthy in mind. The senator said he had burned no books and didn't think the President could have been referring to him.

Dulles' Cousin's Book Removed

COLUMBUS, O (AP)—An Ohio State University historian, cousin of the secretary of state, is one of the 40 authors whose books have been removed from American overseas libraries, according to the New York Times in a survey published Monday.

Dr. Foster Rhea Dulles is the author of several books dealing with American foreign policy in the Orient. The Times survey said some ofthe books which have been taken from overseas library shelves involved criticism of U. S. Far East policy.

Dulles has been a history professor at Ohio State since 1941.

Rhee

must be included in an acceptable armistice agreement. They were identical with the points of a compromise proposal reported earlier today by AP Tokyo Bureau Chief Robert Eunson.

Sources close to the U. S. Embassy here said Rhee's terms were wholly unacceptable to the U. N. Command.

His proposal calls for:

1. Simultaneous withdrawal of both U.N. and Chinese forces from Korea.

2. A mutual defense pact with the United States.

3. A three-month post-armistice peace conference with the war to resume if no agreement is reached before the 90-day deadline.

Rhee said in conferences Monday and today Gen. Mark Clark asked him to keep 8,200 anti-Communist Korean prisoners of war still in Allied stockades under guard and to prevent their escape.

"We are in a difficult situation," Rhee said. "These prisoners demand that they must have equal right to be freed. It is very difficult to keep them quiet in custody. The Korean people demand they be set free."

Taxes

liams said, have large outside incomes which put them in the bracket taxed at 90 per cent of income. He estimated that these members spent at least $20,000 a year while in Washington, and, if they could deduct at all, their tax bill would be decreased by 90 per cent of that amount, of $18,000.

The House-voted plan, he said, "gives the most relief to those who need it least."

McCormack estimated that the average congressman spends at least $4,500 on business expenses while attending sessions of Congress. Other members said that was a conservative estimate.

It's only fair, he said, that the lawmakers be treated the same as anyone else coming to Washington on business and be allowed to deduct their necessary expenses.

Council

er aspects of the problem and Councilman-at-large Tom Clark asked what progress has been made on a Chamber of Commerce proposed master engineering traffic survey. Councilman Conkle said that the C of C has a plan for raising its $12,000 share of the total $20,000 cost of the survey, but that he did not know what progress has been made.

A S. Prospect St. resident then said that she and other persons from that area were told recently by a state highway department representative that even with a master traffic survey it would take 15 to 20 years to make the necessary changes to relieve the traffic problem in Marion.

Councilman Clark said this was true but that the plan to improve Bark's Rd. for use as a state route would also require several years. He said also that he was against this plan and felt no changes should be made until the engineering traffic survey is completed.

At this point Mayor Harold F. Robinson said there is "no use kidding these people any more. We might as well tell them to go on home, because there's nothing we can do until we get the master survey."

Haldeman angrily replied that "I want it clearly understood that we (the special three-man committee) are not trying to kid anyone."

The proposal for rerouting the truck traffic over Bark's Road was made after those attending the public meeting decided it was the most feasible plan, he said.

Mayor Robinson then said what he meant to say was that Council should not kid itself in thinking anything could be done to solve the problem until after the master survey is completed.

Another spectator then asked what had happened to Mayor Robinson's plan to send letters to trucking concerns asking that they voluntarily route their trucks around the city. Mayor Robinson said that he sent letters to some 40 companies and that nearly all of them answered that they would cooperate.

Further discussion of numerous other proposals for solving the problem was halted by Council President William G. Slack. He said there was apparently nothing Council could do and sent the problem back to the special committee for more study.

Other Action

In other action at last night's meeting Council:

Approved an ordinance to make additional appropriations from the Park Fund.

Approved appropriation of funds from the Veterans Housing Fund.

Authorized the safety-service director to enter into contracts for the hospitilization of indigent patients at City Hospital.

Approved a resolution calling for the employment of Floyd G. Browne and Associates for setting up plans for a sanitary sewer on Jefferson St.

Tabled indefinitely an ordinance which would permit the Little League Baseball League to lease some 10 acres at the Veterans Housing Project for use as a ball diamond.

Voted to allow the Little League to use the area for the balance of the summer without a lease.

Sent two proposed ordinances back to committee for further study. They were: An ordinance authorizing the Safety-Service director to enter into a contract to provide fire protection for the B. F. Goodrich Co. plant near Green Camp and another authorized the safety-service director to enter into a contract with the Baker Wood Preserving Co. for sewage treatment of industrial wastes.

Directed the safety-service director to turn off a traffic light at N. Main and Mark Sts. during the summer months.

Discussed but took no action on a proposal by Fifth Ward Councilman Don Quaintance that either a traffic light be installed at Pearl and W. Columbia Sts. or that the intersection be made a four-way stop street.

Set up a joint committee composed of the Finance Committee and the Municipal Services Committee to study a request by Police Chief Tom Coon that 14 additional policemen be employed.

The ordinance calling for additional appropriations within the Park Fund was to provide $2,900 to pay for playground labor, $100 for playground incidentals, $500 for park incidentals, and $4,000 for park labor for a total appropriation of $7,500.

A similar ordinance for appropriating funds from the Veterans Housing Fund was to provide $1,800 for salary of the manager, $100 for office expenses, $100 for incidentals, $1,000 for unit repairs and maintenance, $100 for refunds, $150 for street repair and lighting, $140 for city's share to the public employees retirement system, $600 for taxes, and $150 for equipment for a total of $4,140. The city will take over ownership of slightly over 10 acres of the Housing Project on which the living units are located on July 1. Previously the city has operated the project for the federal government.

A former city employee, who appeared before council last night in an attempt to get his job back, was critical of the city administration, but came to The Star this morning with a statement of apology. He was C. E. Eckard of near Marion, who was discharged recently as manager of the city dump. In his statement, he said, "I made a false accusation and wish to apologize to the men concerned for what I said."

Absent from last night's Council meeting were Harold Fralich, Sixth Ward, and William Simmons, at-large.

New Erie Diesel Shop

on the wheel truck, the entire truck is removed and sent to the truck repair shop for the necessary adjustments. Periodically, the entire engine of the locomotive is removed and completely overhauled. The engine is replaced by another one in a matter of about four hours and the diesel is ready to roll again. This compares to the thirty-day period required for the repair of the old-type steam engines.

Officials at the diesel shop are quick to point out the cleanliness of the new diesels. H. J. Phelps, master mechanic, who is in charge of the open house program, cited the case of one workman who wears a white shirt regularly while working on the diesels.

One of the things which most outsiders fail to realize about a diesel is that the diesel engine does not actually power the wheels. The diesel engine powers an electric generator which supplies the current for individual electric motors attached to each axle. This is the reason for the name diesel-electric locomotive.

The fact that each axle is driven by an individual motor allows the engineer to decrease power and fuel consumption at the same time. In the old steam engines, pressure had to be kept steady regardless of the speed or the weight of the load being hauled. The result was that more fuel was used than was necessary to drive the train. The diesel uses only enough fuel to keep the train going at the speed desired.

9,000 Turn Out in Hornell

An open house at Hornell last year proved to be so successful that officials were unable to keep up with the crowd. There a crowd of 9,000 turned out. The population of the town is only 16,000.

Phelps points out that this is the first opportunity for Marion residents to see the inside of the shop. Letters have been sent to all retired employees who worked in the old roundhouse. Many of them have never been inside the diesel plant. Even some of the present workers in other departments of the system have not had the opportunity to see what goes on in the new building.

The new structure was first erected in 1944. In 1948, an addition on the south side of the original building was needed. Last year a second addition was built along the west end and north side of the building. The overall length of the shop at present is 326 feet.

The diesel shop employs 352 workers. The average length of time each has been employed is 16 years. The entire Erie system in Marion employes 1223 people, one-tenth of the entire working population of the city This makes the Erie the third largest industrial employer in the city. The annual payroll is $5,400,000.

The main line of Erie freight is the transportation of nearly 90 per cent of all the perishable fruits and vegetables shipped to New York from California. Refrigerator cars on Erie trains are loaded with 10,000,000 pounds of ice at Marion each month.

Program for Children

Officials at the diesel shop are planning to have a full program for the children who visit them Tuesday. Main feature of this program will be a ride in one of the Erie gondola cars from the plant to the washing rack and back. Refreshments will be served to all who visit the shop.

The importance of the efficient operation of the diesel shop can be realized when one learns that one new locomotive costs $750,000. Therefore each detail must be especially checked to avoid costly damage to the equipment.

Periodically, each locomotive is given a complete overhaul. This assures the safe and efficient operation of the engine. In this process, no detail is overlooked. The pistons are removed and repaired, the valves ground, the air chambers torn apart and checked and many other operations are performed.

Each diesel engine is capable of 6,000 horsepower. There are four units on each locomotive, each with the possibility of giving out 1500 horsepower. The generator on the diesel is powerful enough to light a small town. One of these generators will be dismantled and the various pieces contained in it placed on display.

Besides seeing the repair end of the diesel, visitors will be taken through one of the engines. They will also be shown through one of the training cars and the new type "bay-window" caboose. The training car contains the latest equipment repair devices as well as cut-away models of many of the larger parts of the diesel. The new caboose is expected to be in use on Erie freight trains in the near future.

The Marion diesel shop is the largest operating plant on the line. A total of 26,000 gallons of lubricating oil is kept on hand at all times. In addition, 2,000,000 gallons of fuel oil and over $800, worth of repair parts are stored there.

The shop operates 24 hours a day. It has not been open to the public in the past due to the dangerous types of operation which are performed there. Tuesday the workers will be on guard to prevent accidents while at the same time maintaining an operation of a nearly normal day.

Visitors will see the large overhead crane remove and install an engine in one of the locomotives. They will see the wheel truck removed and sent to the repair room and another one sent back to take the place of the original.

Officials ask that as many as possible use the free bus service which will be provided since the parking area at the shop is limited.

Legislature

em favors additional state aid for weak districts only.

The Senate school subsidy bill proposes a 16 million dollar increase in the 215 millions suggested by Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Big-city senators apparently have no quarrel with the Senate bill's total; they simply want city school districts to get a cut of the increase.

The deciding vote in the Senate, apparently split 16-16 on the school issue, seems to be resting with freshman Sen. Wilbur L. Shull (R-Franklin). Although he represents Columbus, third largest city in Ohio, he refused to indicate in advance his position.

The coming Senate battle stole the legislative spotlight from the House which Monday night defeated a bill to lift the liquor department's freeze on new permits. The defeat, 65 to 44, came after Lausche wrote Minority Leader James J. McGettrick (D - Cuyahoga) urging the House to kill it. The 44 favorable votes fell 25 votes short of the 69 needed to pass it.

The House killed for good, by a 47-39 vote against reconsideration, a bill to permit zoning around publicly owned airports. It failed by six votes last week to get House approval.

Rural forces in the House kept alive a bill seeking to exempt villages of less than 5,000 population from the stream anti-pollution law passed by the 1951 Legislature. The bill failed by nine votes to get House approval last week. A motion was made Monday night to reconsider the defeat. The motion was left pending.

The Senate completed passage of bills authorizing the state to trade state-owned lands in Stark and Delaware Counties for privately owned land.

The House approved and sent to the Senate a bill to permit about 3,000 state employes 70 years old and older to continue working.

NEWS CONFERENCE OFF

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower won't hold a news conference this week.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters today the regular weekly conference scheduled for Wednesday had been cancelled. He gave no reason.

Woman Held In Stabbing Of Husband

Slaying of Former Crestline Man By Wife Said Accidental

Mrs. Mary Bender, 29, a mother of three, was held by Chicago authorities for an appearance in felony court there today on a charge of murdering her husband, Vincent, 29, a former Crestline man.

A Chicago coroner's jury Monday ruled that the fatal stabbing, which took place Friday night in the couple's Chicago south side apartment, was accidental. Prosecutors, however, held the woman for questioning, according to an earlier Associated Press report.

Mrs. Bender had been held since Friday night by Chicago police on a technical charge of murder, after the former Crestline man died enroute to a Chicago hospital of a knife wound in the chest.

She told police that her husband was stabbed when he awoke in an "ugly" mood Friday night. She said he beat her and threw a cup of coffee in her face and that she grabbed a butcher knife as he lunged at her again.

"He must have run right into the knife. I didn't know he was stabbed until I saw the blood on his chest," she said.

Bender, a Pennsylvania Railroad employe, is survived by his wife; three children, Vincent, 3, Rogena, 2, and an adopted son, Paul, 10. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bender, grandfather, Samuel R. Arcudi, and four sisters, Mrs. Emma Rox, Mrs. Joann Moore, Mrs. Jacqueline Lear and Miss Geneva Bender, all reside in Crestline.

Funeral services have been set for Wednesday at 9 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Crestline, with the Rev. J. B. Fralick reciting mass. Interment will be at St. Joseph's cemetery. Friends may call at the Robert F. Beck Funeral Home.

Police Report 4 Accidents

Marion police today reported four accidents and three arrests. No one was injured in the accidents.

At 4:25 p.m. Monday, a car driven by Vern C. Griffith, 33, of 710 Bennett St. struck the auto of Delmar C. Delsavee, 42, of 764 Bennett St. Delsavee's car was stopped at the intersection of Columbia and Windsor St. The rear end was damaged. Griffith's auto was not damaged.

At 3:01 p.m. Monday, cars driven by Greydon Shuorth, 56, of near Marion and Edwin Mayse of 514 Mound St. sideswiped at the intersection of E. Church St. and Forest Lawn Blvd. The side of the Shuorth car was damaged.

An accident at Davids St. near Bellefontaine Ave. at 5:30 p.m. Monday resulted in damage to the left door of a car driven by Alonzo M. Owings, 64, of Prospect. Abdel C. Mobley, 51, of 575½ Silver St. was the driver of another car involved. His car was not damaged.

At 141 S. Main St. Monday noon, cars driven by Mrs. Florence Appleman of 460 Davids St. and Mrs. Ella Cramer of near Marion collided. Mrs. Appleman's car was damaged.

Police arrested Albert Joseph Buck, 38, of 212 Orchard St., Monday at 3:45 p.m. on Route 4 south of Marion on a charge of reckless operation. He is scheduled for an appearance in court today.

Roy Robert Conners, 19, of 708 Wood St. was arrested at 1:39 this morning on a charge of driving his automobile with an open muffler. He posted a $35 bond and is scheduled for a hearing today.

Police also reported that a car stolen from Columbus last week was found on S. State St. at 1:48 Monday afternoon. A call to the station led police to the spot where the car had been parked for almost a week. Columbus police were notified.

BOY, 2, TAKES STROLL

A two-year-old boy apparently developed a mild case of wanderlust just before noon yesterday and was found nearly an hour later standing on a street corner some two blocks from his home. Marion police were called into the search for Mike Peters of 235 Summit St. at 12:55 p.m. and 14 minutes later received a report the toddler was found by an unidentified woman at the corner of E. Church and Elm St.

Nip Revolt In Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Bolivian President Victor Paz Estenssoro's revolt-installed government says it has nipped a plot to upset its agrarian reform program and its negotiations to sell the nation's nationalized tin abroad.

A government announcement said a number of military officers, civilians and police had been arrested. The newspaper El Diario said about 100 persons had been jailed, including La Paz Police Chief Lt. Col. Fidel Rojas Garcia and former Police Director Lt. Col. Victor Valdez.

The newspaper Ultima Hora said the revolt was planned by the Socialist Falange party, the Army's National Police Corps and a labor faction, who plotted to seize power simultaneously last Saturday night in La Paz and Cochambamba.

The paper added that the government learned of the plot and that an attempt to seize the Cochabamba air base was unsuccessful.

1. The Farm Fight and You

Eisenhower, Benson Farm Program Faces Test

(Editor's Note: A new civil war is shaping up, and you have a stake in it—whether you live on a farm or in the city. It's the battle over farm prices, productions, supports, all of which touches your daily life if you eat—and most people do. In this first of four articles, two veteran AP writers survey the farm picture from every angle.)

By OVID MARTIN and DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bitter struggle in America's farm world today is moving toward a supreme test of President Eisenhower's campaign pledge to give farmers a new agriculture program.

The fight is being waged from the grassroots of the farms to the halls of Conress with make-or-break intensity. The final decision will come next year when Congress must extend or revise the present laws governing the farm program.

The fight revolves around the federal government's program of high and rigid price supports for the basic crops of wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanuts. This program evolved during 20 years of Democratic administration.

But the Eisenhower forces—led by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson—want to revise it because they are convinced high and rigid price props encourage the production of huge surpluses, promote wasteful farm practices, and price products out of markets, particularly foreign markets.

Beyond the price support dispute lies a broader and more fundamental issue. It is whether there will be a change of direction in the entire philosophy of the federal government's role in aid to farmers.

Both sides in the controversy have the same announced goal: greater prosperity for the farmer. The differences arise over their methods.

On the one side, the Eisenhower administration and its supporters say there must be a change in the basic approach to prosperity for the farmer. In its simplest terms, the Benson philosophy holds the farmer should rely more on his own good sense and business ability and less on government subsidy to realize a truly sound farm economy. It is argued that the trend has been more and more toward government controls—and that this trend inevitably will lead to complete government domination of the farm economy.

On the other side, opponents claim the high support program was built up carefully over the years by both Republicans and Democrats and reflects what the farmer thinks is best for himself and the consumer. They say it has worked well, with some exceptions, and argue that the farmer is entitled to government help in achieving a fair income. They assail the Eisenhower-Benson philosophy as a threat to economic gains made by the farmers since the black days of the depression.

Both sides believe in the use of price supports as a device to help the farmer. This method of bolstering farm income has become accepted as a way of life in the agricultural world. It is agreed that in the interest of a sound national economy the federal government must guarantee the farmer the equivalent of a minimum wage for his production. The trouble arises over how far this support should go and how it will be used.

Present devices to support or strengthen farm income grew by gradual stages out of the farm depression almost 30 years ago. This was a time—much like the present—when prices sagged after being held to high levels by a war economy. Then the export market fell off drastically. Farmers found themselves in deep trouble.

Finally agriculture appealed to the federal government for help. Congress was sympathetic. Farm aid legislation passed both houses—but was vetoed by President Coolidge. Later efforts to enact it were opposed by President Hoover. In their view, it was not proper for the government to become involved in the farmers' economic operations.

Then came the financial bust of the early 30's and the Democratic victories that gave birth to the New Deal.

The New Deal philosophy was that the government had a duty to help the farmers achieve prices which would bring them a fair income in relation to other parts of the nation's economy. Federal farm aid programs were set up. (MORE)

For the first time, these programs established a standard for farm prices known as parity. This was an effort to relate prices to purchasing power so that a farmer would have a fair return for his labor.

Legislation didn't try to push prices up to parity level by fixed prices. It attempted to achieve this goal by cutting back farm production, plowing under cotton and killing pigs. The idea was that reduced supplies would mean automatic increases in prices. One device was to pay farmers a rental on land that was kept out of farm production.

But farmers and public revolted against these practices. The idea of deliberately destroying food when there was hunger in the world was an unpopular approach.

Finally there was evolved more direct devices for supporting or strengthening prices. Congress decided that the crops designated as basic—wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts—must be supported at 90 per cent of parity.

The secretary of agriculture was given authority to fix the percentage of parity at which other commodities would be supported—but he had no choice on the basics.

This support device included the practice of making loans to farmers on those portions of their crops which they held off the market.

But under this program huge surpluses are piling up. There are around 600 million bushels of wheat already stored in bins, warehouses, elevators, and even old liberty ships. The corn surplus runs about 800 million bushels.

Tons of butter are in storage, and there are surpluses in other commodities.

This abundance—for which there is no ready market—is a real headache. Some see it as a threat to the entire farm program if ever the general public should rebel against paying farmers for producing crops which have little chance of being sold in the open market.

Here is where the Eisenhower-Benson argument wins perhaps its strongest support. It isn't likely that any program would survive if it became unpopular with the public.

But even with last year's record farm production, the farmer has been realizing less and less for his effort. The reason is that while farm prices have fallen in the past two years, the cash expenses of the farmer have increased.

In addition, the foreign market for American farm products has slipped from a high of four billion dollars last year to an estimated three billion this year.

Eisenhower pledged in his campaign to help farmers obtain 100 per cent of parity "in the market place." He didn't say it would be done with price supports or subsidies and he gave no details on how this goal would be reached. But it was a pledge that neither farmers nor politicians are apt to forget.

What remains to be seen is whether Congress will go along with the Eisenhower-Benson program when it finally is hammered into specific recommendations.

Delegates Split On Church Plan

TIFFIN, O. (AP) — The General Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church plans to vote again today on a new organization plan. Delegates split almost evenly on the first ballot.

The first vote was taken early this morning after the church's governing body had debated through the night on the controversial plan to set up 14 areas to supplement the regular district synods.

Taken by a show of hands, the vote was so close leaders decided to adjourn the session.

The delegates earlier defeated a motion for a compromise under which the area plan would be optional.

The organization plan would not replace the district synods, but each of the 14 areas would have a full time president and handle promotional and Evangelistic activities. Church officials say it would involve considerable expenditure.

In other sessions Monday, the delegates adopted a number of resolutions on subjects ranging from inter - faith marriages to social security for ministers.

Erie employees of
MARION DIESEL SHOP
invite you, your family and friends to
OPEN HOUSE
Tuesday, June 30 • 9 A.M. to 9 P.M.

● Tuesday, June 30th is going to be a big day in Marion and you, your friends and family are invited to inspect Erie's new, enlarged diesel shop.

Erie has made the Marion Shop one of the most modern and efficient railroad shops in the country. We can say with pride that the Marion Diesel Shop is bigger and better than ever before!

The employees of the shop will act as guides in showing the new interesting features and the special machinery that helps in the repair and maintenance of Erie's big diesel locomotives.

This is a big day in Marion and one you will long remember. We hope you will bring your family and friends. Everybody is cordially welcome. There will be refreshments for all and souvenirs for the kiddies. We know everybody will have a good time.

Clean-Up Of Zane Plant Continues

Clean-up of debris from the $300,000 fire at the Betty Zane Corn Products Co. plant on Bellefontaine Ave. a week ago Monday neared the halfway point today.

Mrs. Mary K. Birch, general manager and treasurer, said that plans are to have all the debris cleaned up within a week and that plans for rebuilding the eight buildings destroyed are now under study.

The debris being removed consists of burned and unburned corn on the cob, thousands of cans of processed corn, glass bottles, charred wood from the cribs, and ashes.

Meanwhile, production at the plant, while curtailed somewhat because of lack of storage space, has continued without a let-up since the day after the fire. Mrs. Birch said all customers of the company are receiving shipments regularly.

Rebuilding will begin as soon as possible to provide much-needed storage buildings, she said. Buildings destroyed in the fire were seven wooden cribs used to store corn on the cob and a warehouse in which finished corn products were stored.

As the clearing away of the refuse continued, Raymond LaMonda, an investigator for the state fire marshal's office said today his investigation into the cause of the fire is continuing.

He previously indicated that arson may have been involved in the fire at the Betty Zane plant and also at the smaller fire the same night at the Marion Power Shovel Co. farm on Uncapher Ave. in which a number of large packing crates were destroyed. Another fire the same night at the Erie Railroad Freight station apparently was caused by a cigaret accidentally tossed on some overstuffed furniture, he said. Loss in that fire was estimated at some $20,000.

GIFTS AWARDED

Father's Day was observed at the Rural Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church Sunday morning at the close of the Sunday school hour. Mrs. M. R. Anthony was in charge of the program. Gifts were awarded the oldest father present, Walter S. McChesney; the youngest father, Dewey Oldfield Jr.; and to the father of a boy in the armed forces, Orrie Myers.

MOTHER AT TWELVE. Mrs. Mary Kendrick Tristan, 12-year-old wife of Airman Sergio Tristan of San Antonio, Texas, stationed at Perrin Air Force Base near Denison, Texas, is the mother of a six-pound, 11-ounce daughter born one week before the young couple celebrate their first wedding anniversary. Mrs. Tristan, the former Mary Kendrick of Durant, Okla., was 11 at the time of her marriage and her husband was 21.

Quartet to Sing At Likens Chapel

One of more than 50 summer concerts by the student male quartet from North Park College at Chicago, Ill., will be given in Marion this week. The group will be heard at the Likens Chapel Church, which is located in the former Scioto Ordnance Plant area, Friday night. Time of the program will be 8 o'clock. The young musicians, including two ministerial students, will sing in Covenant Churches and youth camps throughout the Midwest and the East during the summer months.

Members of the quartet sing also in the college choir which toured Eastern states this spring. The four vocalists are James Erickson of San Diego, Calif., who plans to be amedical missionary, S. Bruce Johnson of Turlock, Calif., preparing for a teaching career, Jerrold Lindahl of Berkeley, Calif., who will go on active duty with the U. S. Naval Air Reserve in the fall, and Arthur A. R. Nelson of Chicago, Ill., ministerial student. The accompanist is Paul Paige of Manchester, Conn., student in the school of music. All are prominent in various campus activities, in sports, clubs and student government organizations.

Humphrey Cautious On Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey's advice to income taxpayers is not to spend the hoped-for Jan. 1 reduction until the fate of the excess profits tax is settled.

Humprey gave the advice last night in a radio interview, saying it would be hard to reduce individual income taxes unless Congress approves a six-month extension of the excess profits tax. The tax expires in a week, unless Congress acts.

The excess profits tax extension bill is bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee, whose chairman, Rep. Daniel Reed (R-NY), opposes it.

Would Merge All Minority Groups

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People now seeks "a total integration of Negroes and other minority groups," Walter White, executive secretary of the association, says.

Speaking at a news conference yesterday, White said progress toward achieving equal educational opportunities for all races, particularly in the South, brought about the change in the NAACP's goal.

He said the organization has abandoned the "separate but equal theory."

White added many persons "are awakening to the tremendous cost of equal but separate education for the races."

White is here for the 44th annual convention of the association, opening tonight.

Goes Berserk, Kills Two With Knife

GUAM (AP)—A Filipino cafeteria attendant ran amok with a 12-inch kitchen knife last night and killed two Filipinos and wounded a third seriously.

Officials said the man apparently went berserk after he was accused by the Filipinos of being a thief. The four were in the kitchen of a U. S. Air Force cafeteria.

Bank Teller Takes $91,000

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 49-year-old bank teller who earned $265 a month has admitted taking $91,000 over a 20-year period just "for normal living expenses" for his wife and two children.

Herbert Moss, assistant agent in charge of the FBI here, said Kenneth B. Jackson made the admission after his arrest on a charge of making a false entry involving $800.

FBI agents said Jackson told them he joined the Jefferson bank and Trust Company in 1923 and got along all right for 10 years, but that during the depression he got into debt and began taking small sums for living expenses.

Authorities said Jackson's home is a modest one, sparsely furnished and that he had only one suit of clothes.

The gardens within a few feet of passing trains of British railways, often only one-sixteenth of an acre in area, and renting for a few shillings, raise millions of pounds worth of vegetables a year.

Refrigerating units in a typical jet plane must be able to take a searing 600 degree blast of air from the engine and deliver it to destination in a split second, at 20 degrees.

50-Year-Old Tickets Still Good on B&O

ELM GROVE, W. Va. (AP)—Eighty-nine-year-old Mrs. Jesse Baird is taking her two grandchildren on a five-mile choo-choo ride today with a couple of train tickets more than 50 years old.

Mrs. Baird recently wrote to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad headquarters in Baltimore saying she had the ancient tickets. She explained she'd like to give her grandchildren their first train ride with them.

The B&O said okay since there wasn't any date of expiration. So Mrs. Baird and the children will take the 13-minute trip from here to Wheeling.

Faulty Doctrine

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

During the past two decades when all of us have fallen into the habit of speaking of Left and Right, of Left of Center, of the Middle Road, the tendency of thought, in many countries, has been to avoid definition of terms.

It is characteristic of an era of confusion that this should be so. How can one speak of the Middle Road unless the two ends are unmistakably clear? The middle can only be a point equidistant between two fixed terminals.

The avoidance of absolutes in politics, as in personal morals, may satisfy the desire of individuals to avoid positive decision, many of which may be unpleasant and some even impolite.

THE GENTEEL person can go through life without ever annoying anyone or hurting feelings by never reaching a conclusion on anything but always skimming across thin surfaces.

The phrase, "Middle Road," is a misnomer; it should be the "Milquestoast Road," in honor of that meek and mild comic strip personality who, while he often blew his top, as the expression goes, backed away from real opposition because it hurt his sensibilities to have to reach an unpalatable decision.

In a stronger era, the risk of decisiveness was taken by strong men.

In political relationships, the Middle Road has never meant anything, because politics is not only the art of government; it is also the art of compromise among irreconcilable forces.

TALLEYRAND'S greatest successes were in his compromises. But to compromise wisely, it is necessary never to depart from the essence of one's own program.

Disraeli, Bismarck and Stalin, among the world's greatest empire builders, understood how to do this.

Chiang Kai-shek and Franklin D. Roosevelt did not know how to employ this tool of statesmanship; Chiang, because he was obdurate at the wrong time; Roosevelt, because he lacked a program for his own country and therefore was pulled too far away from its national interests.

Roosevelt is an excellent example of the Middle-of-the-Road personality in politics. He had no philosophy to guide him except a pragmatic rule that what works today is good for today.

Tomororw was never his problem, although the curse of political arrangements is that tomorrow is just around the corner and the corner is turned too swiftly.

-:-

ROOSEVELT, against his will and probably without his knowledge, was pulled into Stalin's corner, just as Churchill, in his great old age, has become the international broker for Malenkov.

This can happen to anyone who makes the Middle-of-the-Road his slogan.

Such a person avoids what he calls extremes; but the Russians have proved that the extremists can win if they give the appearance, but never the substance, of compromise.

What the Russians have established as a fact since Teheran (1943), Bismarck proved in the establishment of the German empire — which his successors lost.

Similarly, Talleyrand saved France, because that was all he had to do.

The American failure in Korea, on the contrary, is a superb example of the inevitable tragedy of going somewhere without knowing where or why.

TO ENGAGE in war without a decision for victory; to collect allies without stipulating the terms of alliance; to permit the enemy the comfort of a sanctuary without the employment of means to destroy it; to permit allies to trade with the enemy on a grand scale without even economic reprisals; to make an armistice without protecting the future — these are indications of a lack of program by Middle-of-the-Roaders.

Why, for instance, does Tito resume more cordial relations with Soviet Russia at just this moment? It is because failure brings its consequences and one of the major consequences is loss of confidence.

THE LEADERSHIP in the Western World is no longer held by the United States but has reverted to Great Britain. British policy is based on a program — the program of restoring the European market among the European nations led by Great Britain.

Tito is following British policy because it is not a temperamental, whimsical policy. It has its own absolute — trade.

Since Elizabeth I, that has been the British guide and any departure from it — any Middle-of-the-Road doctrine — has produced only disaster.

In this moment of our first military defeat, slogans may soothe the spirit, but to save the body, radical surgery is essential.

NEVER TOO LATE. Hershel Bregman, deciding at the age of 100 that it was about time he took out United States citizenship papers, appears at the Travelers Aid Society in New York carrying an American flag and asking how to go about it. Born in Minsk, Russia, he came to the U.S. 23 years ago. Feeling "like a young fellow," he figured there was no hurry but the years now are creeping up on him and he is anxious to get it over with.

First Drive-In Service Set At Bible Ranchette

Plans are being made for the first drive-in service of the summer at the Brookside Bible Ranchette near Cardington for Saturday night. The service at the ranchette which is located on State Route 529 three and one-half miles east of Cardington, will be at 8. Dr. C. E. Hershey, pastor of Emmanuel Baptist Church in Marion and director of the ranchette, will be the speaker. His subject will be "Rivers of Blood."

Each Saturday night following, there will be a drive-in service at the ranchette, and beginning next Sunday, services will be conducted each Sunday night. W. A. Hough of Marion is assistant director, Walter Osmun is in charge of special music, and Harley Kelley is chief usher. The season will be closed with a special missionary conference on Labor Day.

On July 4, there will be a day of fellowship, picnicing, and the regularly scheduled drive-in service. Scheduled for July 11 is a film, "The Amazing Story of Sgt. Jacob DeShazer." It is the account of experiences of Sgt. DeShazer who was with the Doolittle Raiders and was taken as a prisoner of war during World War II. This sound and color picture is documented by Great Commission Films of Hollywood, Calif.

Tire Makers Optimistic

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)— Detroit's optimism is spreading to Akron.

The auto industry, setting a production record in the first half of this year, is boosting its goals for the rest of 1953.

And some in the tire industry—insisting they're undisturbed that stocks of unsold tires are one-fourth larger than a year ago—are raising 1953 sales estimates by three million more passenger car casings.

Counting in trucks tires, many in the industry look for 100 million tires to be sold this year.

B. F. Goodrich spokesmen say passenger car tire sales this year should run six million more than last year. The auto industry's spurt gets most of the credit.

E. J. Thomas, president of Goodyear, has raised his estimates of passenger car tire sales by three million since his predictions of last November. He believes the auto industry will turn out six million cars this year, giving an original tire demand (including spares) of 31½ milion.

He expects replacement sales to be around 49 million, as previously estimated, and export sales to hold around one half million. To these total sales of 81 million, he adds a year-end inventory of two million tires. The 83 million total production would be 12 per cent higher than last year, he says.

Although the tire industry entered the big-sales season with inventories higher than in 1952 or 1951, Firestone spokesmen say stocks are now in normal relationship with sales.

They point out that in the two preceding years, "tire inventories were subnormal because of the tremendous over-buying of tires by motorists in the summer of 1950, a scare that the Korean War would bring back tire rationing."

Firestone, too, expects "record high consumption of rubber this year and a demand for more than 100 million tires." It has been producing tires at a capacity rate on a six-day basis all this year.

Increased military buying of trucks and truck tires has led Thomas to raise by one million his estimates of total truck tire sales this year to 16 million tires. The Goodyear president's guess of a total tire production of 99 million, is a little more conservative than otherrs in the industry.

Goodrich, for instance, thinks the industry will sell 50 million replacement tires for passenger cars this year (one million more than Goodyear's guess). Last year the industry provided 45½ million replacements.

Trucks tire replacements will rise moderately to nine milion units, Goodrich expects.

Looking farther ahead, Goodrich predicts by 1960 there will be 65½ million motor vehicles registered, 54 million of them passenger cars. To service them, the industry would sell around 66 million replacement tires.

Marion Youth Speaks At Rural Salem Church

Elwin Falor of the Marion Oakland Evangelical United Brethren Church, son of the Rev. and Mrs. H. V. Falor, was the guest speaker Sunday night at the Rural Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church during services sponsored by the Youth Fellowship.

"Tools for Mission Teachers" was the theme of the services for which an offering was taken. Dora Miller, president, offered prayer. The Casto Mosher trio sang three numbers and the Rev. A. E. Clark, pastor, presided at the services.

REUNIONS

JONES

The sixth annual Jones reunion was held Sunday at the Prospect Park. Twenty-seven members and one visitor were present. Officers elected for the coming year are president, Norman Weston; vice president, Victor Oswald; secretary, Gertrude Rider; treasurer, Florence Weston. The next reunion will be held in Prospect the third Sunday in June, 1954.

ANTS

There's a new and better way to kill ants. It's called Roach Filmz. When applied to any surface with the built-in cap-applicator, it leaves a hard, dry, clean, invisible film. The film can't harm or soil any surface; but, when ants touch it, their legs become paralyzed and they die in two hours. A single application remains effective for months. You never see it, but it sure does get rid of ants and roaches! Roach Filmz is available at

Find Crippled Woman Slain

ATLANTA (AP)—Police described the death of a 20-year-old crippled woman whose nude, bludgeoned body was found in a wooded area here as "one of the most savage murders in the history of Atlanta."

The woman was identified as Miss Betty Bagby. She was scheduled to enter a hospital here this week for an operation to correct a club-footed condition.

Detective Lt. L. T. Bullard said the murder "could only be the work of a crazed sex fiend."

The woman's left breast had been severed and her skull crushed. Bits of her underclothes had been flung into the branches of trees. Bullard said she wore only heavy corrective surgical shoes and white socks.

Beavers can work under water sawing poles with their teeth with out getting water in their mouths. The lips are so designed that they close in back of the long, front incisor teeth. Their ears and nostrils are also provided with valves which keep out water when submerged.

Suspend Five Dallas Cops In Burglary Ring

DALLAS (AP)—Five Dallas policemen were under suspension today, accused of conniving with a burglary alarm firm employe to steal merchandise from stores and warehouses.

One detective was indicted yesterday on theft charges and another charged with theft. They and three other officers were suspended.

Legal action against more Dallas policemen accused of burglaries was promised today. Detective Capt. P. B. Leach said, "We're going to clear up many, many cases covering many years."

Chief Carl Hansson said when one of the alarm company's sensitive alarms would go off accidentally in a business house or warehouse, the officers would meet the employe at the scene. Then the group would loot the building.

Wrestlers Flee Tito Regime

SALZBURG, Austria (AP) — Two Yugoslav amateur wrestlers are seeking asylum in the West. They say they don't like President Tito's Communist regime and want to "live in freedom."

Newspapers identified the two as Josef Nayer, his country's heavyweight champion, and Belo Antal, a featherweight. Both were members of the "Spartak" wrestling club which met an Austrian team last weekend at Hallein in the U. S. zone of Austria.

The pair told reporters they boarded a Yugoslav-bound train with their teammates after the matches but escaped when the train stopped at a way station. Both said they want to emigrate to Canada.

YOUTH SENTENCED

LISBON, O. (AP)—Judge Joel H. Sharp has sentenced 19-year-old John Collins Jr., to 1-20 years in prison for the fatal stabbing of Alvin Brooks, also 19. Collins pleaded guilty to manslaughter after the charge was reduced from second degree murder. Collins told police he stabbed Brooks in the Veterans Social Club in East Liverpool April 4 in an argument over Brooks' wife, Verna, 19.

FLYING FARMER OFFICERS CALL ON THE PRESIDENT. Flying Farmers Association officers are shown with President Eisenhower in the White House during their three-day visit to Washington. Godfrey Ties Shoes First in 20 Years

BOSTON (AP)—TV-radio star Arthur Godfrey is able to tie his own shoes for the first time in 20 years.

The Massachusetts General Hospital issued that report last night while stating that the popular entertainer is in "very satisfactory" condition.

The hospital said Godfrey, operated on May 15 to correct hip injuries suffered in a 1931 automobile accident, "is walking with crutches and riding a stationary bicycle."

Dust Storms Hit Parched Colorado

DENVER (AP)—Dust is drifting six feet high in parts of Baca County, heart of the Southeast Colorado dust bowl of the mid-1930s, Gov. Thornton was informed. The governor immediately arranged to make a personal inspection of the situation next Monday.

State Rep. W. K. Burchfield advised Thornton yesterday some cattle are starving. He added that dust storms have become almost as severe as those of 18 years ago but he said they are of shorter duration.

Per capita production of electricity in Sweden is about the same as that in the United States.

THE NEW PACKARD

A great new car with a grand old name

Be sure to see and drive America's New Choice in Fine Cars

The new Packard bears the oldest and the proudest name in fine-car history, and the new line of Packard automobiles recently announced gives the American people, for the first time in years, a "new choice in fine cars."

People who grew up with Packard — and people who want to enjoy Packard prestige — today are visiting Packard showrooms in ever-increasing numbers.

A Packard dealer will be glad to put one of the new cars at your disposal at any time. We believe you will find the time you spend seeing and driving this great new car with this grand old name a gratifying and rewarding experience. Plan to visit your Packard dealer.

Now—Ask the Man Who Owns One

"Found in a Packard..." a familiar phrase to people who have shared Packard's long and illustrious record for quality. Here are a few features found in the new Packard—America's new choice in fine cars—

- Contour styling that is setting the trend in modern motorcar design.
- More power than you will ever use. The famous Packard engine is acknowledged to be one of the finest in the world.
- Greater visibility than any other car in its field. Parking and backing are much easier.
- The smoothest, safest and most dependable automatic drive ever built. That's the Packard Ultramatic—without extra cost to you in the Packard Patrician.
- More leg room! Five inches more in the back seat. More head room, too. You can get in and out of a Packard with comfort.
- The most modern motorcar air conditioning available in all models.
- And, of course, for years Packard's famous riding qualities have been the envy of the automotive world. "Rides like a Packard" is the ultimate compliment!
- Power steering and power brakes available at extra cost on all models.
- A wide range of models and colors. Sedans, convertibles and hard-top convertibles.

NEW! The Packard CLIPPER—another great Packard line. If you plan to buy a car in the medium-price class, be sure to see and drive the Packard CLIPPER, compare it with other medium-priced cars.

Easter Sparks Cleveland to Double Win Over Senators

Big Luke Hits Double On First Chance, Shows Way

BOSTON (AP)—Big Luke Easter, who touched off a 14-hit assault the first time he got back in the batting order, was making the Cleveland Indians look today like a free-swinging ball club.

The Indians, here for a four-game series against the Boston Red Sox, swept a doubleheader at Washington Monday, winning both games by 5-2 scores.

Big Luke doubled home Al Rosen, who singled in the first inning of the opening game. The Tribesmen followed with 12 other blows in that joust.

Easter played four and a half innings in the first game and five and a half in the second. Besides the double, he contributed a single, in six trips to the plate.

Larry Doby, Bob Lemon and Dale Mitchell hit homers in the sixth inning of the second game. Washington's Walt Masterson had pitched 22 scoreless innings until that outbreak.

Doby also homered in the eighth inning of the first game with the bases empty. The Tribe's other first-game runs came one at a time. Bobby Avila doubled in the third and was driven home by Rosen's single. Bob Kennedy and Wally Westlake singled in the sixth and Jim Hegan doubled in Kennedy. Avila doubled in the ninth and got all the way to the plate when George Strickland's bunt got by pitcher John Dixon.

Joe Ginsberg doubled for Cleveland in the second game's seventh inning and Hegan ran for him. Strickland sacrificed Hegan to third and he scored on a balk by Masterson.

Mike Garcia, after his ninth victory against four losses, pitches today's first game, against Willard Nixon, who has a 3-1 record. Bob Chakales pitches the second game against Boston's Maurice McDermott.

Hold Edge In All-Star Poll

Schoendienst, Mantle Top Vote Getters

CHICAGO (AP)—Red Schoendienst of St. Louis, in the National League, and Mickey Mantle of New York, in the American, moved steadily ahead today as voting continued in the annual All-Star poll.

They were by far the top individual vote-getters for the interleague game in Cincinnati July 14.

Schoendienst, veteran second baseman, had polled 101,726 votes through the latest tabulation. The total was almost twice that of his nearest rival, Davey Williams of New York, who had 56,102.

Mantle had the poll's highest number of ballots—107,398—in taking the lead for the American League's center field position. Next in line was Chicago's Jim Rivera, with 73,101.

Brooklyn Invades Cincy Grounds

CINCINNATI (AP) — The backpedaling Brooklyn Dodgers and sagging Cincinnati Redlegs meet tonight in the opener of a three-game series at Crosley Field.

The Brooks have lost six of their last eight games on the road, while the Redlegs, who had returned from their most successful road trip of the season, promptly dropped six of eight games.

Bud Podbielan (4-6) of Cincinnati and Billy Loes (8-3) of Brooklyn have been selected as the probable pitchers tonight.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Thanks to Vern Hensel and the Green Camp Elevator baseball team, we're suffering from our first sunburn in several years. We usually manage to find a shady spot when the mercury nears the 100-degree mark but Hensel had other ideas.

Saturday we made the trip to the Mansfield Reformatory where Elevator crew was scheduled to play. Temperatures inatures inside side the wall reached to around 99 but a full nine-inning game was played.

SHORT

Dick Bayles must have worked off at least seven pounds during his full nine-inning stint on the mound. He lost the verdict in the eighth inning after over-working his arm in the seventh. The first two batters in the seventh reached base but Bayles bore down and retired the side with no runs. The overwork and the heat proved too much and three OSR runs were scored in the eighth.

Charles Rice, Bayles' catcher, the pitcher, Hensel at third, Bob Weston at shortstop, and Jack Daum at first also were forced to keep going at full speed in the blistering heat.

Inmates at the Reformatory, some 2,500 strong, gained the most enjoyment from the game. Wagering of cigarets was rampant during the tilt. Most of the boys were betting on the 'outside" but were forced to concede after an 8-3 win for the inmates.

The meal served in the officers' dining hall served as payment for the sunshine, however. The Elevator team was guests of the Reformatory for an afternoon meal. A quick shower conditioned the players for a slow (and appetizing) steak.

YOTER YANKED. Elmer Yoter, mild-mannered ex-pilot of the Marion Red Sox, was recently ejected from the ball park at Roanoke, Va., where he is managing this year. The umpire had cleared the bench when Elmer and several of his players refused to stop heckling the arbiter. Before the game was over, police were forced to break up a punching match between Yoter's pitcher, Bill Slack, and the umpire. Slack had been ordered from the game but before leaving the scene threw a couple of punches at the ump.

Yoter has several former Marion players with his Class B entry in the Piedmont League. George Contratto is holding down first base and currently is hitting .312 with 24 runs batted. Guy Morton is the first string catcher. He has a .302 hitting mark and is credited with 29 RBI's. Morton has clouted six home runs. Neil Smith is a member of the mound staff.

Roberts' ERA Tops Majors

NEW YORK (AP)—Robin Roberts, the top man in almost every National League pitching department, led in another category today—earned run averages.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press disclose the 26-year-old Philadelphia Phillies' right-hander has given up 34 earned runs in 141 innings (the most in the senior circuit) for a 2.17 mark.

Working with only two days rest between starts, Roberts also leads in victories, 11, complete games, 16, and strikeouts, 77. He has lost only four times.

In the American League, Frank Shea of the Washington Senators boasts the best average, 2.25. The 30-year-old ex-New York Yankee has permitted 16 earned runs in 64 frames. He has won six games and dropped one. The records including Monday's games are based on 60 innings.

WHIRLING ON COURT. Maria Teran De Weiss makes a return in a match at Hurlingham Club in London. She wears a tennis costume of organdie trimmed with guipure lace and panties to match. South American reports have noted a growing friendship between Mrs. Weiss, a widow, and President Juan Peron of Argentina.

Hogan Lands, Set to Crack British Open

PRESTWICK, Scotland (AP)—Ben Hogan, the little man with a magic wand for a golf club, landed in Scotland today after a trans-atlantic flight to prepare for the one major tournament he has never won—the British Open. He's never tried it before.

It was a tanned and smiling Hogan who told those who came to greet him that he had made the trip for three reasons: "Everyone back home wanted me to, this year the British Open doesn't interfere with anything I wanted to play in America and because I am told Carnoustie is one of the finest courses in the world."

The recently crowned U. S. Open Champion will spend two weeks polishing his game for the British Open which will be held on the testing Carnoustie layout from July 6-10. The championship Carnoustie where the 72-hole medal play event will be held probably is the toughest in the British Isles.

Asked upon his arrival whether he'll win Hogan replied "golf tournaments are like horse races—hard to predict. But I shall be trying to win as I do in every tournament."

Just before he took off from New York with his wife and Frank Stranahan, the Toledo strong boy who also will compete, Ben said he planned to start playing the course today. "I haven't given a thought to the course. After all, no one else can tell you about a golf course."

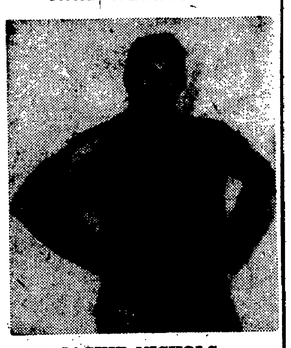
JACKIE NICHOLS HEADLINE "BIG" ARMORY MAT CARD WEDNESDAY



JACKIE NICHOLS

The best news in months for the Marion Armory Wrestling Fans is that Jackie Nichols is on the card; but that is not all, for the balance of the program lines up some of the biggest TV stars. Nichols has drawn for his opponent in the main event, today's greatest Greek wrestler, George "Golden Greek" Macricostas. The 2 out of 3 fall semi-final speaks for itself for Chris Belkas, another great Greek grappler, wrestles the best wrestler Detroit ever turned out, Lou Klein. The 8:30 Match could rate a main go billing for Frank "Cave Man" Marconi wrestles the popular New Zealander, Dano O'Shocker, who hasn't lost a fall in Marion. No raise in prices for this outstanding card. General $1.00: Reserved Ringside $1.50. Kids 50c. Come on fans, let's pack the Armory Wednesday night and give Jackie a big welcome. Better call Markert & Lewis early for the best ringside.

Wilhelm And Osgood Teams Notch Wins

Hinton's Bow, 8-5, Vance Nipped, 6-1, In Little League Play

Osgood downed Hinton's 8-5, and Wilhelm's dumped Vance, 6-1, Monday night at Lincoln Park in Little League action. The games were part of the National League schedule.

Maag led off the game for Hinton's with a walk and later scored on a double by Penry. The Osgood team came back in the bottom of the first with two runs on a double by Steve Flesher and a single by Don Conkle and a walk to Stewart Flesher. The winners went ahead in the fourth when Jerry Bechtle doubled home Mullen.

Osgood came back to score two in the fifth. Ray Music opened with a single, Maag walked and Larry Giles came through with the first of his two hits. Jim Hough, losing hurler, singled to account for the two runs. Three walks, and singles by Music, Giles and Hough ended the Hinton scoring in the final inning when two runs came in.

Osgood clinched the game with a four-run uprising in the final frame. Only one base hit was collected. Two walks, an error and another error coming after a triple by Dave Winters accounted for the scoring. Stewart Flesher, who relieved his brother, Steve, received credit for the win. Hough was the losing hurler.

Wilhelm's scored four times in the first inning and were never headed. Singles by Bailey, Creviston and Holmes, a double by Jenkins and an error allowed the runs. A single run was added in the third when Creviston doubled and was brought home by Evans' single. Singles by Chamberlain, Jenkins and Holmes accounted for the final run in the fifth.

The only Vance run came in the last inning when Larkin opened with a double. He scored on an outfield fly.

Chamberlain went all the way on the mound for the winner while Greiner was charged with the loss. Chamberlain allowed four hits. The Wilhelm team collected 10 bingles.

The auroch, extinct cow, believed to be the ancestor of modern cattle survived in remote parts of Poland until the 17th or 18th century.

BONUS PLAYER collects hug. Seventeen-year-old Robert Miller, a high school southpaw signed by the Detroit Tigers, gets a big hug from his girl friend, Nancy Janecek, 17. Detroit sources reported he was paid a bonus variously estimated between $35,000 and $60,000. Miller was just graduated from Morton High School in Cicero, Ill., a Chicago suburb. He joined the Tigers today in Philadelphia.

Title at Stake In Marion Girls League

The first round title will be at stake tonight when the Marion Industries and Marion Power Shovel teams clash in the Marion Girls Softball League.

Holding a record of three straight victories, the Marion Industries squad can clinch the crown with a win tonight. A Shovel win would throw the teams into a tie with a 3-1 mark.

The game is scheduled for 6:15 at the Shovel diamond on Uncapher Ave. The other game tonight will send the Telephone team against the Marion Engineer Depot at the Depot field.

Should the first round race end in a tie, league spokesmen said the two teams probably would meet in a playoff as part of a doublebill scheduled Sunday afternoon at the Depot field.

Two games are on tap for the Sunday program which will feature an all-star team from the league.

Giants Resume Drive To First Division; Bums Lose

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

Leo Durocher's reluctant Giants, finally exhibiting signs of arousing from their spring doldrums, move in on the St. Louis Cardinals tonight for their second straight showdown series with a first division club.

Flushed with success after gaining two victories and a tie out of a four-game series with the league-leading Milwaukee Braves the New Yorkers have a chance to prove to their faithful followers that even yet they may fulfill pre-season predictions.

Leo's lads generally were picked to finish no worse than third. But most of their battling so far has been to keep up to the .500 mark and somewhere within striking distance of first division.

Durocher has switched his lineup so much he already has qualified for a master's degree in juggling, but he's going back to one of his old reliable formulas in an attempt to whip the third-place Cards. He's sending lefty Dave Koslo to the mound.

For several years Koslo has been no mystery to the other clubs but he has baffled the Red Birds regularly. This season his magic has been missing. He's tried twice and failed against St. Louis, but he won a game in Cincinnati last week.

If Leo can get by with him tonight, he will know there's hope for his club yet.

The Giants will be meeting St. Louis during one of the Cardinals' better periods. In the current home stand the Cards have won six out of seven including a 6-3 verdict over Pittsburgh last night.

Brooklyn continued its miserable Western trip with a 9-4 loss to the Chicago Cubs while in the American League the off-and-on Cleveland Indians won a pair of 5-2 contests from the Washington Senators. The rest of the clubs in both leagues had the day off.

The Dodgers' loss shoved them three full games behind the Braves and left them only a game and a half in front of the Cardinals. Cleveland trails the New York Yankees by 10½ games.

Gerry Staley joined the so - far select group of 10-game winners as he checked the Pirates on eight hits. Enos Slaughter drove in three runs with a double and another one with a single.

The tremendous home run threat the Cubs were hoping for when they bought Ralph Kiner to team with Hank Sauer worked out in the best story-book fashion against the Dodgers.

Frank Baumholtz and Dee Fondy singled in the fourth and Kiner delivered them with his 15th homer into the left field seats. The crowd was still cheering as Sauer promptly parked his 10th circuit blast into the same section.

For a change the Indians combined timely hitting with competent pitching to win two games in a row. Bobby Feller and Bob Lemon both went the distance. His teammates backed Feller with a 14-hit attack in the first game and Lemon started a home run barrage against Walt Masterson that won the second.

Lemon, Dale Mitchell and Larry Doby all homered in the sixth inning, breaking a string of 22 scoreless innings by Masterson. Doby also hit one in the first game.

Moore Positive He Can Repeat Maxim Verdict

OGDEN, Utah (AP)—It took 16 years for Archie Moore to achieve the goal of a world champion in boxing and the 36-year-old craftsman from California doesn't intend to surrender the title he holds as king of the light heavyweights in his 15-round fight with Joey Maxim tomorrow night.

Moore, the St. Louis-born Negro, has seen enough of the fight game from the lower ranks. It was a long, bitter and often frustrating path he trod coming up.

And when he got his big chance he made the most of it. This was in St. Louis last December when he handed the champion, this same handsome Italian from Cleveland, Maxim, an artistic lacing in 15 rounds.

The bout is to be televised nationally (CBS network). It will not be broadcast anywhere by radio.

Co-promoters Al Warden and Kenny Mayne predicted a turnout of 10,000 to 12,000 in the open air Ogden Stadium and gate receipts approaching $100,000. On top of this will be the television money of $50,000. Each fighter gets a $25,000, or 30 per cent of the net gate, plus 15 per cent of the TV money.

The promoters took over selection of a referee and two judges when Jack Kearns, Maxim's manager, and Charley Johnston, for Moore, failed to agree on officials.

It was in December, 1936, that Moore fought his first professional fight, and it was in St. Louis. He won over a man named Sammy Christian. Some 119 matches later came the title victory.

Archie's luck was indifferent until nearly nine years ago when he wrote Johnson in New York and asked im to handle his affairs.

"I told him to come on," Johnston recounted. "He drove over in a rattle-trap car from California. Believe me, he was out at the seat of his pants, but we've done pretty well since then. We don't want to backtrack now."

Lead Major League Hitters

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Robinson and Billy Goodman, both former batting champions, paced the major leagues again today, each by a one point margin.

Robinson, the Brookyn Dodgers' jack-of-all trades, heads the National League with a .342 mark. He was its top hitter in 1949 with the same figure. Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals is Jackie's closest competitor at .341.

Goodman, who won the American League title in 1950 with .354, is No. 1 today with a .327 slate. Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees is second with .326 followed by Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators at .325.

Hilliards Track Lists Dead Heat

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Raider Direct had no trouble finding a hole in the pack on the rail and with Driver Harry Miller's expert guidance the 10-1 shot won the second division of the featured pace Monday night at Hilliards Raceway.

The horse turned in the best time of the evening, 2:07 2-5, and returned $2.40, 2.20 and 3.20 in a four-way photo finish. But Stout Volo, owned by Ray Holt of Hilliards, won the Virginia Hotel Trophy by winning the first division and finishing fourth in the second heat.

Hal Chief and Wicky Wic finished second and third in both heats.

A dead heat was photographed in the last race as Mary Darnley and Fox Valley Spud reached the wire together.

Peppe, OSU Swimmers Set for Summer Tour

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio State swimming Coach Mike Peppe and three Buckeye swimmers will visit Japan and England this year to take part in exhibitions.

Peppe will leave Columbus July 15 to meet Ford Konno, Dick Cleveland and Yoshi Oyakawa in Hawaii. The group will tour Tokyo and Osaka.

In August Peppe will take diver Jerry Harrison, Bob Clotworthy and Bob Smith to Europe. The exhibitions are sanctioned by the AAU.

NO SCORE. Catcher Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers keeps Frankie Baumholtz from scoring in second inning against Chicago Cubs at Chicago. Baumholtz tried to score from first on a single and the throw-in was handled by Campanella in time to get Umpire Jocko Conlan's "You're Out" gesture. Cubs won, 9-4.

Yesterday's STARS

By The Associated Press

Batting — Enos Slaughter, St. Louis Cardinals, singled, doubled and drove in four runs in the Cardinals' 6-3 triumph over Pittsburgh.

Pitching—Bob Lemon, Cleveland Indians, gave up eight hits and hit a home run in winning his ninth game, over Washington, 5-2.

Indianapolis Nips Red Birds in 9th

By The Associated Press

Indianapolis gained breathing space in the hot American Association pennant scramble with a come-from-behind 4-3 victory Monday over last place Coulmbus.

The next two clubs, Toledo and Kansas City, dropped off the neck-and-neck pace by losing. Second-place Toledo bowed to Charleston, 4-0 and Kansas City, in third-place, lost to Minneapolis, 5-4.

In Monday night's other Association game, Louisville defeated St. Paul 6-0.

Indianapolis, now a full game ahead of Toledo and a game and a half in front of Kansas City, scored two runs in the ninth inning for victory over the Red Birds.

Epworth Wins First Round Church Title

Downs Greenwood, 10-6, To Clinch League Championship

Epworth Methodist defeated Greenwood Evangelical at Garfield Park Monday to win the first round championship of the Church Softball League.

A perennial power in the Sunday School League, Epworth's annexation of the first round, nevertheless, ended a four-year domination of the league by St. Mary No. 1 at the half-way mark. The winners belted Greenwood for 10 runs including two home runs while checking their opponents to six tallies, opening up in the first inning with four runs on as many hits and wrapping up the contest in the second frame with another barrage of three runs.

Jack Daum and Bernard Lyons hit homers for Epworth, Daum's coming in the sixth with the sacks empty while Lyon's led off in the seventh with his round tripper. Lyons also had a triple in the first inning to drive in two runs. Winfield of Greenwood had three hits out of four times at the plate to lead the losers' attack which included six runs on eight hits. Howard Gilbert went all the way for Epworth to receive credit for the victory while Mel Donaugh traveled the route for Greenwood.

St. Mary No. 2 pulled a triple play in the first inning against Wesley and then went on to win easily, 12-2. The three-ply killing came after Haines, Augenstein and Evans of Wesley had reached base by means of two walks and an error. With no one out, Ambrose lined a shot to Krigbaum, Irish second baseman, who caught the ball and tossed to Merchant covering second who doubled Augenstein off the bag. Merchant then rifled the throw to Shoemaker at first who nipped Evans before he could get back. It was the first triple play in Marion Recreational Softball this year. The Irish scored their 12 runs on 11 hits including three singles by Buchanan who received credit for the victory.

St. Mary No. 1 although outhit 11 to 4, defeated Church of the Brethren, 8-5, to finish in the runner-up spot of the Church League. After taking a 2-0 lead in the first inning without getting a hit, the Irish blew the game wide open in the fifth with a five run rally on two bingles, two walks, two errors and a fielder's choice. The Brethren belted base hits around the park all evening but couldn't put them together with the exception of the sixth inning. In the sixth, they pieced four hits together and came close to tieing up the game before Steve Norris put out the fire by fanning the final hitter with two men on the sacks. Don Ballenger led the Brethren hitting attack with three out of four while Howie Richardson got two of St. Mary's four hits to lead the Irish.

Pupils in Church School Give $30 For CROP Chicks

Final session of the Central Christian Vacation Church School was held Friday, followed by a picnic for pupils and parents at noon. A "sharing" program was held Sunday afternoon for the general congregation and friends.

Total enrollment in the classes was 82, with average attendance of 62. Awards of certificates were made to 60 children, and 31 had a record of perfect attendance.

A special feature was an offering brought by the children for the CROP Baby Chick project in which $30 was given which will buy 120 chicks to be sent to a country of the Near East, Miss Garnet Laird, director of the school, stated.

Teachers and helpers included Mrs. James Ward, Mrs. Helen Ridenour, Mrs. Ralph Snyder, Miss Shirley Williams, Mrs. Orlo Hoover and Miss Beverly Mishler, Kindergarten; Mrs. Nell Stewart, Miss Peggy Jones, Mrs. Keith Gibson, Mrs. Thomas Babcock, Mrs. Harvey Crump, and Miss Joan Merrill, Primary; Mrs. Ashley Booth and Mrs. Paul Worden, Juniors, and Mrs. O. R. Cross, Miss Mary Ann Comer and Miss Nancy Hammond, general assistants.

Fulton Man Injured In Auto Collision

A two-car collision in Mt. Gilead at the intersection of U. S. Route 42 and State Route 61, at 2:45 a.m. Monday, sent one driver to Morrow County Hospital, according to investigating state highway patrolmen from the Marion post.

Robert E. Partlow, 25, of near Fulton, O., suffered a fractured right leg when the car he was driving was struck broadside at the intersection by a car driven by Betty Mae Bremer, 24, of St. Louis, Mo. Partlow was taken to Morrow County Hospital in Mt. Gilead by a passing motorist.

Miss Bremer appeared before Justice of Peace R. R. Bennington in Mt. Gilead at 6 a.m. and was fined $10 and costs on a charge of failing to obey an automatic traffic signal.

Heavy damage to the Partlow car including the left front, rear, top and sides of the body, was reported. Wreckers were called to remove both vehicles.

At 5:45 p.m. Monday, George K. Pendleton, 20, of Columbus, escaped from a one-car accident on Route 95, seven miles west of Marion, with minor injuries. Patrolmen said Pendleton drove his car off the left side of the road, that it returned to the highway and rolled over into a ditch on the right side of the road. The car was demolished. Pendleton was treated by a Marion physician for a lacerated thumb, sprained arm and bruised left leg. The car was removed by a wrecker.

First aid instruction for Army personnel by medical officers first was ordered in November, 1886.

The next meeting will be a family picnic, the place to be announced later. A committee composed of Mrs. Lucille Dial, Mrs. Helen Crandall, Mrs. Lottie Cyrney and Mrs. Catherine Messenger was named to plan the picnic, to be held on the next regular meeting date.

Fogt to Attend Teacher Meeting At Miami Beach

Norman W. Fogt, principal at State Street Junior High School, will represent the Marion Education Association at the 91st annual meeting of the National Education Association which will open June 28 at Miami Beach, Fla.

Approximately 3,500 delegates, officially representing state and local associations, will attend the meeting which will continue through July 3. The organization is a professional association for teachers, and delegates will be from every state as well as the District of Columbia and the territories of Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Delegates also will attend the 32nd delegate assembly, held in conjunction with the annual NEA meeting. An estimated 7,000 teachers, parents and lay people are expected to attend the convention.

Among the topics to be discussed are: what does freedom to learn imply; how to deal with textbook and curriculum critics; what are the forces affecting education today; investigations of education; and loyalty legislation.

The convention theme will be: We pledge allegiance to the welfare of the nation's children, to the ideals of human brotherhood, and to our country and a world at peace.

The Newspaper Boy

Did you ever stop to think of the service your newspaperboy performs?

He makes his delivery nightly, whether it is raining, snowing, windy or 100 in the shade. Nothing stops him from making his daily appointed rounds.

He is a little business man operating a business just as your milk man, your bread man, your grocer, or any other merchant.

He buys his papers at wholesale and sells them to you at retail. The difference is his profit.

He is the sole judge of to whom to extend credit.

He depends upon the prompt payment of his accounts for his profit and working capital just as the merchant that operates any business.

He has his problems the same as you and I do. Some people want the paper delivered one place, others want it in a different location, he tries to please everyone.

However — should you at any time have irregular delivery of The Star to your home we shall appreciate a prompt complaint.

Court of Common Pleas, Marion County, Ohio.

John Q. Berry, Plaintiff, vs. Ada Wagner, et al., Defendants, Case No. 31418.

In pursuance of an order of sale in partition from said Court to me directed in the above entitled action, I will expose to sale at public auction at the East door of the Courthouse in Marion, Marion County, Ohio on Friday, July 3, 1953, at 10:00 A.M. the following described real estate, situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio and in the City of Marion, and bounded and described as follows:

TRACT NO. I.

Situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio and City of Marion, and bounded and described as follows: Known as being part of Out-Lot No. 7, in East Marion, described as follows: Beginning at a stone monument set at the southeast corner of said Out-Lot No. 7; thence North 200 feet to the south line of an alley, deeded by Martha R. Dix and her husband to the City of Marion by Deed dated January 16, 1905, and recorded in Volume 105, page 9 of the Deed Records of Marion County, Ohio; thence West on said South line of said alley, 40 feet to the west line of a certain tract of land deeded by Horatio Hoyles to John C. Anthony by deed dated November 15, 1906, and recorded in Volume 109, page 489 of the Deed Records of Marion County, Ohio; thence South on the East line of said Anthony tract, 200 feet to the North line of Church Street, thence East on the North line of Church Street, 40 feet to the place of beginning. Said premises being improved with a frame dwelling and being located at 528 East Church Street, Marion, Ohio, and appraised at $6,950.00, and can not sell for less than two-thirds of said appraisal.

TRACT NO. II.

Situated in the County of Marion, State of Ohio and City of Marion, and bounded and described as follows: To be taken out of the southwest corner of said Lot No. 13, running East from the southwest corner of said lot, half the distance of the width of said West half of said Lot No. 13, and to run North far enough to make one-fourth of an acre neat measure. Said grantors hereby intend to convey one-fourth of an acre, as described above (see Deed made by John Leffler and wife to John H. Leffler as recorded in Vol. 86, page 479, Marion County Deed Records, and from John H. Leffler and wife to Maggie A. Johnson as recorded in Vol. 59, page 481, Marion County Deed Records), excepting from the above, however, a certain piece of land deeded to John J. Stafford by Maggie A. Johnson and husband by Deed as recorded in Volume 110, page 462, Marion County Deed Records and described as follows: Commencing at the northwest corner of a certain lot of land conveyed to Maggie A. Report Akron Man To Be Deported

AKRON, O. (AP) — Without elaborating, a Justice Department spokesman in Washington says Akron's Frank Milano is ticketed for deportation.

Milano, whose name appeared in testimony gathered by the Kefauver Crime Committee concerning Cleveland's old Mayfield Rd. bootlegging gang, was first approached by immigration agents Saturday.

They stopped him while he was attending his daughter's wedding in Cleveland and accompanied him to his home here but did not question him in detail after a heart specialist advised against that.

Able Bodied Men
Could you use some extra chicken feed $60-$65 for a 40-hour week during your spare time?

Every year from July through November, McMillen Feed Mills needs from 20 to 30 extra men for two or three short rush movements of grain. We unload boxcars and trucks one or two shifts per day at the beginning of each grain rush and build up to three shifts, seven days per week at the peak.
If you can be available for call during these peak periods each year on a part time basis you can train for one of these jobs. A training program will start early in July to prepare men for this year's rush.

TO STORE WHEAT SAFELY AT HOME FOR GOVERNMENT LOAN FOLLOW THESE STEPS
1. Clean and spray bins and surrounding building surfaces NOW.
2. We will custom dry your wheat if it is over 12% moisture when combined. Damp wheat will get weavily in a hurry. Should be 12% or lower for safe storage. High moisture content is the principal reason for farm stored wheat getting out of condition.
3. Use sheet metal, hardware cloth or other materials to make bin rodent proof.
4. Be sure windows and other openings are in good repair to prevent entry of birds.
5. Fumigate promptly within two to three weeks after grain is stored.
6. Observe condition of wheat often during storage period.

What's Behind The PRICE TAG on a USED CAR?

When you shop for a used car, the big question in your mind is —what will you get for your money?

You can't answer that by merely looking the car over, or even listening to the engine. The smart thing to do is to buy your car from a dealer who has a reputation to maintain.

We're Buick dealers. We know it pays to sell dependable cars. We intend to stay in business—to keep making new friends. And we know that the good will of a used-car customer is just as important as that of a man who buys a brand-new Buick.

That's why we recondition and guarantee our best cars — and sell them under a rigid All Square policy. When we're willing to stand behind them, with all our resources and our reputation — you know they're bargains in quality as well as in price!

Most of these are fine one-owner cars—priced low enough so your present car will more than cover the down payment. Come see our All Square cars—this week!

THIS IS THE PLAN, DR. SHU... WE GO TO THE MOUNTAINS BY AIRPLANE, POSING AS SCOUTS FOR A MOUNTAIN-CLIMBING VENTURE...
OUR HIRED AIRPLANE 'LOSES ITS WAY' AND WE PARACHUTE INTO 'BLUENOSE', THE CODE NAME FOR PRINCESS SNOWFLOWER'S PLACE!
SINCE THIS IS NOT AN OFFICIAL UNITED STATES MISSION...
...I SUPPOSE WE'LL BE SHOT AS SPIES IF WE'RE CAPTURED BY THE REDS...
DOCTOR, YOU WERE REARED IN THE GENTLE CONFINES OF THE OPERATING ROOM... I HEAR THE REDS CONSIDER MERELY SHOOTING SPIES TO BE SISSY STUFF!

WHAT DO YOU SAY, JULIE? LIKE TO STOP HERE AND DANCE?
I'D LIKE TO, DAN... BUT IT'S BEEN SO LONG SINCE I'VE TRIED, I HOPE I REMEMBER THE RIGHT THINGS TO DO...
YOU REMEMBERED GOOD, JULIE...
I WAS SO UNCERTAIN WHEN THE MUSIC BEGAN... BUT THEN IT ALL CAME BACK... AND I SUDDENLY REALIZED HOW I LOVE TO DANCE...
DANNY BOY! INTRODUCE ME TO THE WALTZING DREAM... AND THEN QUIETLY DISAPPEAR FOR A MINUTE, LIKE A GOOD CHAP!
BEAT IT, BOB!

Blondie By Chic Young

ALEXANDER, MY BOY, WHAT WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE WHEN YOU GROW UP?
I WANT TO BE JUST LIKE YOU, DAD
THAT CALLS FOR A DOLLAR BILL
OH, THANKS, DAD
BY THE WAY, WHY DO YOU WANT TO BE JUST LIKE ME?
BECAUSE YOU'VE GOT SUCH A SMART SON

Rip Kirby By Alex Raymond

RIP KIRBY'S GOING TO DRIVE FOR YOU IN THE INTERNATIONAL JET, MY DEAR, HE HASN'T A CHANCE... I BEG OF YOU... GIVE UP THIS DANGEROUS AND EXPENSIVE PASTIME...
GRAVES, YOU'RE OVERSTEPPING...
YOU MUST KNOW THAT I HAVE ONLY YOUR BEST INTERESTS AT HEART.. AND THERE'S SOMETHING ELSE... WE COULD HAVE A WONDERFUL LIFE TOGETHER, JET... YOU AND I...
OH, DEAR!
MR. GRAVES, YOU HAVE BEEN WITH THE ALLYSON INTERESTS FOR MANY YEARS. FOR THAT REASON, I'M GOING TO FORGET WHAT YOU JUST SAID.. AND IT WOULD BE WELL FOR YOU TO FORGET IT, TOO. NOW, PLEASE, CARRY OUT MY ORDERS!

Superman By Wayne Boring

MY FIRST APPEARANCE AS AN UNDERWORLD ASSASSIN NAMED DEAD-SHOT DANIELS WAS A SUCCESS! I'M SURE I IMPRESSED SOME OF THE SMALL-FRY OF GANGDOM!
BUT THE MYSTERIOUS BIG SHOT I'M AFTER, WILL BE HARDER TO CONVINCE! I'VE GOT TO SUPPLY THIS FICTIONAL CHARACTER, I'VE INVENTED WITH PROPER--OR SHOULD I SAY--IMPROPER CREDENTIALS!
AND THE BEST WAY TO DO THAT IS VIA THE SERIES OF CRIME ARTICLES I'M WRITING FOR THE DAILY PLANET! I'LL BUILD UP A REPUTATION FOR THIS DEAD-SHOT DANIELS THAT'LL GET ME AN ENGRAVED INVITATION TO VISIT THIS BIG SHOT!
NEXT DAY...
I'VE DECIDED THAT IT'S TOO RISKY TO ENTRUST A BIG JOB TO THIS DEAD-SHOT DANIELS! I NEVER HEARD OF HIM!
MAYBE YOU'D BETTER READ THIS, BOSS--BEFORE YOU MAKE UP YOUR MIND!
